ROADS ASK THAT AGREEMENTS BE ABROGATED; OFFER TO STAY WAGE CUT

Proposal to Labor Board Says Lines Need Immediate Relief and May Be Forced Into Insolvency Unless Operating Expenses Are Reduced.

NO REDUCTION IN THE NEXT 90 DAYS

Owners Want the Question of Working Conditions Remanded to Negotiation Between Each Carrier and Its Employees.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Immediate abrogation of the national agreements between railroads and employees was proposed to the Railroad Labor Board today by W. W. Atterbury, chairman of the Labor Committee of the Association of Railway Executives, and vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The solvency of the railroads of the country must be assured by a reduction in operating expenses, Atterbury declared. Unless prompt action affords relief to the roads, he said, many of the lines of the country may be forced into insolvency.

Says Situation Is Urgent.
So urgent was the situation, he declared, that he rejected from the board a proposal by Judge E. M.
Burton, chairman of the board, that roads and employees should be resolved to meet the situation. "A few days" might see the entire situation brought to a focus where orderly procedure would become difficult if not impossible.

Henry T. Hunt, former Mayor of Cincinnati and public representative on the board, told Atterbury that he had assurances from union leaders that they were willing to enter a conference but Atterbury rejoined: "So far as the railroads are concerned we cannot get together."

"The Labor Board can prevent this catastrophe," Atterbury said, "by declaring that the national agreements, rules and working conditions
coming from the war period are terminated at once; that the question of reasonable and economical rules and working conditions shall be remanded to negotiations between each carrier and its own employees, and that as the basis for such negotiations,
the agreements, rules and working conditions in effect on each railroad as of Dec. 31, 1917, shall be re-established."

Conditional upon the abrogation of the national agreements by the Labor Board, the roads ask in addition that the basic rates for unskilled labor, fixed at 39 to 45
cents an hour in the ward of July, 1918, be immediately retracted. The roads made that inasmuch as rates for unskilled labor in other industries have been greatly reduced since the award became effective, the higher scale of the railroads works
to the disadvantage of other employers, and "bears with grave injustice upon the great body of our farmers."

The appeal of the railway executives is concluded with the declaration that "if our judgment, unless the proposed measures be taken promptly by your board, a situation will develop in which orderly procedure will become entirely impossible."

Complete Statement of Atterbury Asking for Abrogation of Agreement.

Following is Mr. Atterbury's statement complete, as sent to the newspapers in advance by the railroads:
"I have come under a strong sense of duty to lay before you an acute situation. Unless this board takes prompt action many of the railways of the United States may be forced into insolvency."

"Many railroads are not now earning, and with present operating costs and traffic have no prospect of earning, even their bare operating expenses, leaving them without any net return and unable to meet their fixed charges."

"The emergency presented can be met only by an advance in freight and passenger rates, or by a reduction in operating expenses."

"With declining prices and wages
in industry and agriculture the country demands that the solvency of the railroads must be assured by a reduction in operating expenses, and not by a further advance of rates."

"Agreements Cause Waste."

"The national agreements, rules and working conditions forced on the railroads as war measures cause waste and inefficiency, and he had estimated that the all-allocation of

MINISTERS FOR BAN ON SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS

Two Members of Alliance Named to Urge Passage of Bill Now Pending in Missouri Legislature.

ONLY THREE OF 75 AGAINST RESOLUTION

Organization Also Names Committee of Seven to Investigate So-Called "Dance Evil" in City.

The Ministers' Alliance of St. Louis, meeting today at the Y. W. C. A. assembly room, endorsed the efforts of the Lord's Day Alliance to have the Missouri Legislature pass a bill now before it calling for the closing of theaters and moving picture shows on Sunday. A committee consisting of the Rev. D. C. MacLeod and the Rev. S. B. Campbell was appointed to go to Jefferson City to make known to the legislators the attitude of the Ministers' Alliance. The resolution was passed after discussion that lasted 12 minutes.

A committee of seven was also appointed to investigate the effects of the dance "evil."

The resolution on Sabbath observance, which was adopted, follows: "In view of the fact that the week-day of rest has established itself in the experience and customs of both ancient and modern peoples, we reaffirm our conviction that the observance of such a day is essential to the physical and moral well-being of individuals and nations, and that the value of a quiet rest day is particularly to be emphasized at this time, when social and industrial conditions demand mental poise and moral insight."

"We deplore the persistent attempts at secularizing and exploiting Sunday, the day of rest, since such efforts, if successful, would result in depriving workers of an inalienable right."

Propaganda Deplored.
"We deplore the clouding of the real issue by propaganda which con-fuses the humanitarian legislation of our own day with the so-called 'blue laws' of another age, and protest against the caricature and misrepresentation appearing in a part of the public press and in certain moving picture films."

"We insist that the preservation of a day of rest is essential for the cultivation of the family life and for the public worship of God, according to the dictates of the individual conscience."

"We, therefore, in the interest of the physical and moral well-being of our people, invite all social and labor organizations and religious bodies to unite in every effort to preserve Sunday as a day for rest and worship."

Resolved, That we endorse the efforts of the Lord's Day Alliance to secure proper observance of the Lord's day, and respectfully request
the Missouri Legislature to act favorably on the bill to that effect now pending before that body."

Dance "Evil" Resolution.
The resolution for an inquiry into the dancing "evil," also adopted, follows:

"Whereas, The dance is the source
of much evil;
"Therefore, Be it resolved, That a committee of seven ministers be appointed by the Ministers' Alliance who shall thoroughly investigate the dance evil in our city in its relation to the church, public school, social life and public welfare."

On the committee to investigate
dancing are the Revs. M. T. Haw, J.
Hawley Smith, Lewis M. Hale, J. H.
Collins, George E. Norton, S. H. Woodrow and Benjamin Young.

About 75 ministers attended the meeting. In the vote by voice on the Sunday enforcement resolution,
there were only three who dissented.
Their names could not be learned.
The resolution asking the inquiry on dancing was adopted practically without a dissenting voice. There was no discussion of the resolution before voting by those present. The Rev. G. A. Campbell is president of the alliance.

Distributors and Producers Agree on February Milk Prices.

As a result of the conference Saturday at the Missouri Athletic Association of representatives of the St.
Louis milk distributors and the Southern Illinois Milk Producers' Association, the February price will be $2.25 per 100 pounds (11.5 gallons)
at receiving stations in Illinois, from which the distributors pay the express charges to St. Louis, and 25 cents on shipments direct to St. Louis, the shippers paying the express charges. The prices in January were $2.75 at the receiving stations and 30 cents a gallon at St.
Louis. In February last year the price paid at the receiving stations was $2.45.

As has been stated the retail price of milk in St. Louis will be reduced tomorrow from 16 cents to 15 cents
a quart. No reduction in the price of plants has been announced. They are 9 cents.

CITY ACCOUNTANT REFUSED ACCESS TO PEVLEY BOOKS

D. C. Kerckhoff, President of Dairy Company, Says Records Are Not Open to Public in Milk Inquiry.

SAYS IT WOULD BE UNFAIR TO COMPANY

W. C. Connett, Head of City Dairies Co., Says He Would Be Inclined to Take Same Attitude.

H. Clay Perkins, an expert accountant, delegated by the Committee on Public Welfare of the Board of Aldermen, which is investigating the purity and fairness of price of milk in St. Louis, to investigate the books of local milk distributors for the purpose of ascertaining the cost of milk distribution, was refused permission today to inspect the accounts of the Pevely Dairy Co., one of the four largest milk distributing companies in the city. He was informed by Daniel C. Kerckhoff, president of the company, that the company's books were not open to the public.

The committee's decision to employ an accountant was reached after Robert L. Kayser, general manager of the St. Louis Dairy Co., the second largest distributor of milk in St.
Louis, testified before the committee last Tuesday night, stating that he did not care to say in the presence of competitors what the profits of his company were last year. He added that he would show to the committee privately the company's income tax statement for 1920.

Statement by Kerckhoff.
When a Post-Dispatch reporter
asked Kerckhoff for a statement regarding his action, he said:

"This is a public investigation and I do not consider it fair or just for the committee to request a company
to follow its accounts to competitors.
If I were assured that the information
would not go beyond the committee,
I would have no objection to letting the committee see my statement. I made my statement to the committee and have no power to conduct the investigation in secret. I do not feel that I would be treating my company fairly if I were to permit
the committee to have the information it is seeking for itself."

William C. Connett, president of the City Dairies Co., said that if the accountant desired to see the books of his company he should permit
him to see the example of Kerckhoff.

"It is within the province of the Board of Aldermen and the Health Department, under the police powers conferred upon them, to do anything to see that the city gets a pure milk supply," said Connett, "but I am opposed to anything along the line of going into the company's accounts.
The committee has no right to go into our books. They should permit us to pursue such a policy their action
would have a bad effect on business conditions generally. I do not believe the business men of St. Louis would sanction such an inquiry."

Kayser's Statement on Question.
When asked in view of the stand taken by Kerckhoff, he had changed his attitude regarding the perusal of his company's income tax statement, Kayser replied, "Never mind. I made my statement to the committee, and that is all I have to say."

Arthur L. Ottenad, manager of the Jersey Farm Dairy Co., could not be reached for a statement. He was asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter today if the aldermanic committee was vested with legal authority to force
the milk distributors to submit their books for examination by the committee, declined to express an opinion. He also refused to say whether or not the city has the power to regulate retail prices of milk. "Those are matters which I will have to take up with the committee tonight," he said, "and I will not discuss them until that time."

Others Implicated by Carrs.
The scene between Mrs. Witherell and her father, John C. Kratz, was as affecting.

Mrs. Witherell was rescued shortly after 5 o'clock and soon after the entire party started for Los Angeles. The Carrs were said by the police to have implicated others in the alleged kidnapping. The number varied from five to seven. They were also said to have directed the relatives of the woman to deposit the ransom money of $25,000 on a lonely mountain road, promising to release Mrs.
Witherell on the roadside so she could be found after payment of the money.

Rewards totaling $3500 were offered for information as to Mrs.
Witherell's whereabouts. Witherell's former business partner and former stenographer, Charles Beverly, and Mrs. Elsie Westrom Tenney, were killed early Saturday in an automobile accident while detectives were following them into Los Angeles
from a suburb. Why they were followed was unexplained.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 31.—
Mrs. Gladys Witherell, who disappeared from her home here last Tuesday, was found early this morning, a prisoner in a small house on a sheep ranch eight miles east of Corona, in Riverside County, about 70 miles southeast of Los Angeles, according to telephone messages to the Associated Press.

Mrs. Witherell was unhurt.
Two men, who gave their names as
A. J. and Floyd Carr, cousins, were arrested.

The discovery of Mrs. Witherell and the arrest of the two Carr men were effected by Los Angeles police and Deputy Sheriffs, who started for Los Angeles with the woman and the two arrested men.

The officers said the Carrs confessed they had felt toward the woman's father-in-law, A. J. Witherell, because of a transaction involving a boat, and that they kidnaped
Mrs. Witherell both to obtain revenge and ransom money. It was said they had demanded $20,000.

Operator Rises to Occasion.

A telephone operator's quick-witness led to the discovery of Mrs.
Witherell and the Carrs' arrest. The operator received a call from a pay station for the residence of O. S.
Witherell and delayed making the call until the police had been sent to the pay station, where they arrested A. J. Carr, just as he was confessing a delayed conversation which, he had promised relatives in a letter sent the Saturday before.

The police said they found chiroform and other articles in his automobile, which they believed had been used in calling for her.

Carr, it was said, confessed at the police station that he had spent Saturday night outside of Los Angeles, afraid to communicate with the Witherells as he had agreed by letter. Floyd Carr, according to the confession of his cousin, was the leader in the kidnapping.

Told Her Friend Was Hurt.
The police said A. J. Carr told them that Floyd Carr went to the Witherell home last Tuesday night and told Mrs. Witherell a friend had been injured in an automobile accident and was calling for her.

Floyd Carr, according to the police, escorted her to an automobile, where A. J. Carr was waiting. When she became suspicious, the two men chloroformed her. They took her to a small house on a sheep ranch and put her in a room with only a cot.

Mrs. Witherell told the men who rescued her that the alleged kidnapers bought her candy and treated her "with every respect."

The police and Mrs. Witherell's husband and father started for the kidnapers' house at 2 o'clock today, prepared for any emergency. The officers surrounded the house and after closing in on it, smashed the door and windows. A man, said to be Floyd Carr, was caught off his guard and handcuffed.

Mrs. Witherell and her husband rushed into the house and arms. She sobbed and called him "Lambie, Lambie," over and over again.

JUDGE BEN LINDSEY LOSES HIS APPEAL

Supreme Court Decides Against Denver Jurist Under Sentence for Contempt.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The appeal of Judge Ben Lindsey of the Denver (Colo.) Juvenile Court from conviction on charges of contempt of court was dismissed today by the Supreme Court.

Judge Lindsey's conviction, which resulted in a fine of $500, grew out of his refusal to divulge to the District Attorney confidences made to him by Neal Wright, one of his charges, who was accused of complicity in the murder of a farmer,
Judge Lindsey maintained that communications made to him in his official capacity were privileged, and that it would be a violation of law and ethics for him to testify as to such information.

If the conviction is pressed and Judge Lindsey refuses to pay the fine, the alternative has been stated to be 250 days in jail.

traying Child's Confidence.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 31.—Judge
Ben Lindsey of Denver's Juvenile Court, when informed today that the Supreme Court had dismissed his appeal from a sentence on charges of contempt of court, said:

"I'd rather go to jail than betray the confidence of a child."
The judge said that would be his attitude if the District Attorney here moved for an execution of the sentence.

of the Japanese settlement problem
is made in the tentative Shidehara-

PALMER RECOMMENDS FREEING OF DEBS BUT PRESIDENT DECLINES

CONVICTION OF BERGER AND FOUR OTHERS REVERSED

Supreme Court Rules Espionage Case Should Not Have Been Heard by Judge Landis After Attack on His Eligibility.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Conviction of Victor L. Berger and four other members of the Socialist party
for violation of the espionage ac-was reversed today by the Supreme Court on the ground that Judge Landis should not have heard the case after his eligibility had been attacked.

Those convicted with Berger in the Federal Court at Chicago were Adolph Gerner, national secretary of the party; William F. Kruse, editor of the Young Socialists' Magazine; J. Louis Engdahl and Irwin St.
John Tucker.

The effect of the Court's decision is to remand the cases to the Appellate Division, which will issue orders for a reversal and a new trial before some other Federal Judge.

Berger and the other four men were convicted under the section prohibiting attempts to cause inau-ordination and disloyalty in the naval and military forces, and sentences ranging from 10 to 20 years were imposed.

The court divided, six to three,
Justices Day, Pitney and McReynolds dissenting.

The appeal was brought to the Supreme Court on the ground that Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis,
who presided at the trial, had shown personal bias and prejudice against the defendants because of their nationality.

Dissenting Opinion by Justice Day.
Justice Day, who filed a dissenting opinion, held, however, that the mere filing of an affidavit should not be accepted as sufficient evidence of the unfairness of the Judge. The Berger affidavit should not be taken at "face value," he said, because the "facts therein had been made solely on 'information and belief' and no attempt was made to substantiate them."

The majority opinion held that the affidavit of prejudice filed by Berger against Judge Landis was sufficient to have caused his withdrawal from the case and that Judge Landis was not justified in passing upon the affidavit.

McReynolds added to the dissenting opinion a strong approbation of Judge Landis' sentiments as merely showing his detestation of the "Hun-nish warfare which was being backed by communists in America," under our too indulgent laws.

"At Mercy of Defendant." The effect of the majority opinion, Day said, would be to place the Federal courts at the mercy of the defendant and "certainly will greatly retard the machinery of justice."

"The case seems to me to be fraught with danger of interference with the orderly conduct of the business of the courts," he continued.

It should not be of any importance to any Judge that he sit in any particular case, the majority opinion said, and only a false affidavit of prejudice would remove the protection the law gives the defendant in such cases.

"Conspiracy Has Failed; I Have Nothing to Retract," Berger Says.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 31.—
"The conspiracy has failed. I have nothing to retract from anything I have written or said about the war or about those who pushed us into this war," declared Victor L. Berger when told today by the Associated Press of the reversal of the United States Supreme Court of his sentence.

Berger's statement follows:
"In view of the plain wording of the Federal statute of 1913 compel-ing a Federal Judge to give way to another Judge whenever a sworn affidavit of prejudice is filed and also public utterances about German-Americans, Socialists and radicals—before and after the trial—the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States could not be any different and stand the light of reason."

"Still, I hail this decision as a

Declares the Berlin Tageblatt.

LONDON PAPERS
DIFFER IN VIEWS

One Doubts Germany Can Foot the Bill; Papers of Paris, However, Appear to Be Pleased With Agreements.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Jan. 31.—The Paris conference "resolved itself into an agreement of pipe dreamers," declared the Berlin Tageblatt in an editorial, in the same manner that the Oriental seems to delight in a "paradise through opium smoke."

For Germany, "the newspaper continues," "the action of the conference, which only curiously and superficially degree of psychological interest, Germany will have the opportunity in Brussels and London to dissipate these grandiose pipe dreamers. If these fine, fanciful dreamers want to find in us a willing payer they should come down from the clouds and put their feet on earth again."

"The treaty of Versailles deprives us of our sovereignty in military matters. We consider that equivalent to the imposition of an exceptional tax and are under the belief that such restriction can be of short duration," said Herr Gessler, Minister of Defense, in the course of a debate in the Reichstag, Saturday, on the military budget. The Minister said Germany would welcome world-wide disarmament, but he added, she now beholds the states assembled feverishly engaged in arming.

"The army system we have been forced to adopt is not suited to our needs," he declared. "We require a militia to build up a short-service plan."

London Editorial Comment on Paris Agreement.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The editorials in the morning newspapers yesterday approached the Paris agreement from different angles and came to different conclusions.

The Daily Express doubts whether Germany will be able to foot the bill, but says "if payment can be exacted it will be in a form that will do her credit more harm than good."

The newspaper criticizes the dumping of surrendered ships and a reduced demand for British products.

The Daily Telegraph asserts Germany is quite able to meet the bill if she chooses to do so, but it says she probably will not pay except under "stringent compulsion."

The newspaper calculates the British share of the reparations as "slightly less than one-third of the British war debt."

The Morning Post asks what sanction behind the agreement providing for annual payments from "a bulky debt" for the next 43 years.

The newspaper says it finds comfort in the solidarity of the Entente.

The Daily News thinks the immediate demands on Germany are not crushing. It says the agreement is a promise of peace at least and a promise of the end of the "mist of uncertainty."

"On steps toward a fuller peace" is the action of the Daily Chronicle's editorial. The Chronicle thinks that all difficulties which arise will come at a later stage. It considers the disarmament question presents more immediate difficulties.

The Daily Graphic says the agreement will help complete Germany's education regarding the war's havoc and that it solidified the Franco-British Entente.

The Daily Mail considers German export duties the only doubtful point. This newspaper is dubious whether the collection is feasible, and if so, whether the terms will be enough to justify a reduction of the recoverable annuities under the Boulogne agreement.

The Daily Herald, the labor organ, argues that the whole plan is "sheer lunacy" and says the duty on German exports ultimately will be paid by the British workman.

The London "Times" in an editorial says that the settlement may be open to objections, more respect than one, but has the "supreme merit" that it consecrates the "solidarity of the allies." It contends that the decision is "frank enough to teach Germany that the allies are not meant to be trifled with any longer. They are not inconsistent with her economic restoration and they are not inconsistent with the German outcries 'unreasonable' in other respects." If Germany refuses, the Times adds, the allies may be compelled to apply to the "letter" the terms of the treaty.

JUDGE HALL JOINS KIEL AND BURKHAM AS A CANDIDATE

Incumbent of Criminal Court Bench Announces He Will Try for Republican Mayoralty Nomination.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, Jan. 31.—Cullinstown House in Ranelagh, a Dublin suburb, was wrecked Saturday night by the military. The house was owned by the aged mother of Patrick H. Pearse, once "provisional president" of Ireland, who was executed after the 1916 rebellion. Previously it was used as St. Edna's college.

Lately the building has been rented out as flats, and a portion of it was occupied by a Sinn Fein club. It was the only source of income for Mrs. Pearse. One of the flats had been occupied by Mrs. Mulcahy, but she and all the other occupants except Mrs. Pearse had left the building in December owing to repeated raids, during one of which a bullet fired through the front door narrowly missed Mrs. Mulcahy's baby. The soldiers wrecked the house with pick axes and crow bars. It is said they were seeking Richard Mulcahy, a member of the Dail Eireann, and the reputed chief of staff of the Republican Army.

Building Entirely Demolished.

The interior of the building was entirely demolished. All the windows were smashed, except in the room occupied by Mrs. Pearse. The floors and the interior walls were ripped up; part of the roof was gone and some of the furniture had been thrown out of the windows. According to Mrs. Mulcahy, the "black and tans" who wrecked the house went away grumbling because they had found nothing and declared that they were always being sent on false trails.

Local opinion seemed to be that the wrecking of the house was done in reprisal for the ambush at Terenure. Residents of the building are engaged in removing the furniture that remained in the rooms.

An officer and one man were wounded seriously and six others slightly when a lorry in which the officer and 12 men of other ranks were riding was ambushed Saturday night in the vicinity of Terenure, a quiet residential district on the south side of Dublin. A bomb was exploded and shots were fired at the lorry to which the soldiers replied with machine gun fire. The assailants escaped.

One of the members of the ambushing party which was surprised by military forces Friday, at Co. Wick, County Cork, died in a hospital here yesterday of wounds received in the engagement.

Road Had Been Trenched.

It appears the party had trenched the road running from Cork to Macroom. The members of the party who escaped carried off and concealed their slightly wounded comrades, but were obliged to abandon the five seriously wounded.

Constable Clarke, who was wounded recently at Stranodon, County Monaghan, when his comrades were killed, also died in a hospital yesterday.

A police patrol was fired on near Virginia, County Cavan, Saturday night. The police returned the fire and three of the attacking party were seen to fall. There were no police casualties.

Destruction of Cullinstown House by Act of Reprisal Denied.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The destruction of Cullinstown House in Ranelagh, a suburb of Dublin, on Saturday night, was not an official reprisal, it was stated in official quarters here today. An official statement on the incident has not yet been prepared, but it was learned the house was regarded as a "Sinn Fein college."

The military forces, it is said, noted that what they considered suspicious and unnecessary alterations were made to the house, which was owned by the aged mother of Patrick H. Pearse, the "provisional president" of Ireland, who was executed shortly after the Easter rebellion of 1916. The raid Saturday night was made for the purpose of removing the alterations.

"The military, in doing so, caused no unnecessary damage to the building," a military official said today.

TO EXTEND LIQUOR WITHDRAWAL BAN TO OTHER STATES

Situation in Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky to Be Given Early Consideration by Federal Officers.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Orders prohibiting the withdrawal of liquor from bonded warehouses, announced Saturday night as having been issued for seven Eastern States, will be extended wherever required by local conditions, prohibition officials declared last night. Extension of the prohibition against the outward flow of liquor from warehouses, these officials added, will be governed entirely by the amount of liquor already withdrawn in the various states.

Confirmation of reports that the states of Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky would be the next to have their industrial alcohol of wines for medicinal purposes, although they added that the situations in those three states would be given early consideration.

The orders, effective immediately, apply to the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. The only exceptions from the prohibition are withdrawals of industrial alcohol of wines for medicinal purposes, and furthermore, because I dared to be a candidate for the United States Senate against Woodrow Wilson's favorite.

"The conspiracy has failed, and I have nothing to retract from anything I have written or said about the war or about those who pushed us into this war."

"If what I said or wrote was error, citizens holding contrary opinions had an equal right to speak and publish their opinions, so that the public might hear both sides."

"Neither I nor my opponents had a moral or a constitutional right to suppress the free utterance of any citizen's opinions with regard to governmental acts and policies which vitally affected the welfare of all citizens."

"As to my patriotism?"

"Well, I have proven my love for this, my country, by a life of labor in it and for it; by striving constantly with all my energy to improve the condition of my fellow men."

"And finally I have proved my love for America, my faith in America's justice, by risking my liberty in defense of the constitutional right of all American citizens to discuss freely and fully the official acts and policies of their public servants."

"The law under which such suppression was enforced is a flat denial of rights guaranteed every citizen by the Constitution of the United States."

Judge Landis Refuses to Discuss Reversal of Conviction.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Federal Judge K. M. Landis, when told that the Supreme Court had reversed his decision in convicting Victor Berger and four other members of the Socialist party for violation of the espionage act, refused to discuss the matter.

When Judge Landis pronounced sentence, Berger read a statement in which he said his articles and speeches had represented his honest convictions, and that he had nothing to retract. He said that the conviction was in direct violation of the Constitution, and the sentence more severe than any other known in the history of the Kaiser's Government.

"I decline to discuss the matter at all," the jurist said, and walked away.

Berger Convicted of Obstructing Recruiting During War.

Berger and the other four Socialists were accused of obstructing the recruiting and enlistment service during the war. Like most of the other cases against Socialists, similar charges, it was not charged that the defendants actually went out for the express purpose of preventing enlistments, but that their actions, in the war and peace, generally had the effect of discouraging recruiting.

Circuit Judges Adopt

NEW RULE FOR JURORS

None Will Be Excused Hereafter Except on Application Supported by Affidavit.

By the Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31.—The Circuit Judges, in general terms today, adopted a rule, on motion of Judge Taylor, that hereafter no juror shall be excused except on application to the judge in open court, and his application must be supported by affidavit.

The practice has been for jurors to obtain exemption through politicians or by calling on the judge in chambers, without even appearing in court.

With the prospect of reducing the number of excused jurors a rule was adopted to hereafter call only 50 instead of 70 jurors in each division.

A resolution was adopted asking the Board of Aldermen to repeal the ordinance under which jurors are paid $1.50 a day, in order that they may be paid $3 a day under the State law.

The bill in the Legislature increasing the number of Circuit Judges in St. Louis from 14 to 15 was introduced.

Permission was voted Mrs. W. R. Christie and Mrs. Henry W. Wolfe to appear before the judges next Monday in the interest of a court of domestic relations in St. Louis.

Judges Taylor, Garcesche and Miller were appointed a committee to revise the rules.

MRS. HARDING HAS DAY'S REST

Weather Too Bad for Shopping and She Receives No Calls.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the President-elect, was here today for what she described as a few days' rest. She expected to devote some of her time to purchasing part of her White House wardrobe.

She arrived in New York yesterday from Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Harry S. Wolfe, wife of the United States Senator from Indiana, and Mrs. Edward P. McLean of Washington. After her visit she will join her husband in the South.

Falling snow, mingled with a gloomy drizzle, spoiled the shopping plans today, however. Arriving late and finding the weather inclement, Mrs. Harding decided not to shop or to receive any visitors in her suite before this evening.

"All," the jurist said, and walked away.

care of a physician, went to that address today and found John H. Stewart, 21 years old, a chauffeur, suffering from a bullet wound in the left hip, which he said was inflicted Saturday afternoon in a saloon at Ninth and St. Charles streets.

Stewart was removed to the city hospital and physicians said the bullet was still in the wound and that it probably would require an X-ray photograph to find it. They said Stewart's condition was serious.
Stewart, who is married, was employed as a truck driver by the Triangle Transfer Co., Tenth and St.
Charles streets.

The finding of Stewart threw light upon a reported shooting which policemen of Central District investigated Saturday afternoon without obtaining a satisfactory explanation.
It was reported to Central District
at 5:15 p. m. Saturday that a man had been shot in a saloon at Ninth and St. Charles streets. A policeman who went there found a man who gave his name as Stewart, who said
he had suffered a slight gunshot wound, and was going to the city
dispensary for treatment.

While the policeman questioned
John Jackson, 50 years old, of 3427
Eads avenue, proprietor of the saloon, the wounded man disappeared.
He did not report to the dispensary or city hospital. Jackson told the policeman that his negro porter, Walter Woods, and a white man had had an altercation.
Jackson said the porter threw a soda bottle at the white man, which missed him and broke. He said a piece of glass had cut Stewart. Jackson was not held. Stewart, at the hospital today, told policemen that while the negro and white man were quarreling a shot was fired which struck him. He said he took his truck to the office and was taken home in an automobile by his employers.

FORMER DEPUTY FORMALLY ACCUSED OF COUNTY HOLDUP

Robert Walker, Once in Sheriff's Office, Charged With Theft of Jewelry
From Webster Groves
Woman.

VICTIM AND HER SON
FORCED INTO AUTO

Police Told Captors Drove Her About Until They secured Jewelry and Money Totaling $5149.

A warrant was issued this afternoon by Justice Werremeyer at Clayton, charging Robert Walker, a former Deputy Sheriff of St. Louis, with complicity in the robbery of Mrs. Catherine Litto, 32 years old,
of 719 Catalpa avenue, Webster Groves, who told the police Dec. 29
that she had been taken in an automobile the night before by three men, driven around St. Louis County for about two hours, and robbed of $149 and jewelry valued at about $5000.

Walker, who lives at 203 North Fourteenth street, is specifically charged with robbing Mrs. Litto of jewelry worth $3466. He was arrested Saturday by the city police and taken to Clayton, where he was released on a common law bond of $5000. The warrant was issued today at the instance of Harry Anastas,
a saloon keeper at 641 Market street,
a friend of Mrs. Litto, who filed an affidavit charging Walker with the theft, and describing each stolen article.

A diamond ring valued at $1500,
stolen from Robert G. Van of 6153 Pershing avenue, a broker, by high-waymen on the night of Jan. 7, was recovered last Thursday from Walker, who said he had bought it for $250 from Henry Waldmeyer Jr., who is under arrest, charged with the Van robbery.

Anastas told Prosecuting Attorney Mueller that Walker called him
on a telephone one day last week,
and later called upon him, saying he understood Anastas was a friend of Mrs. Litto. He told Anastas, the latter said, that Mrs. Litto's jewelry could be recovered for $2000.

Anastas said he replied that the sum was too large; that the sum was not forthcoming, and then consulted the police, with the result that Walker was arrested.

The story of the robbery, as related by Mrs. Litto, was extraordinary. She said that she and her son Earl, 8 years old, were nearing home at about 10 p. m., when they were accosted by two men, who volved, who lifted them into a limousine driven by a third man, and drove into the country.

They robbed her systematically,
she said, first detaining her inquiring from time to time of the driver if she had any more jewelry. The driver appeared to know just what jewelry she possessed, and where she kept it, she said. The most of it was in a charms bag suspended inside
her waist.

After they had taken all her valuables and money, she said, they released her and her son on a hilltop near Pennsylvania avenue, about a mile north of the Manchester road, giving her 60 cents for car fare.

In issuing the warrant today Justice Werremeyer explained that it was mandatory upon the filing of such an affidavit as Anastas made out. It listed the following pieces of jewelry as stolen: A gold and platinum lavalliere, $1000; diamond ring, $500; gold bracelet, set with 22
carat diamonds, $1000; a gold with 36 diamonds, $900; a gold crown brooch, $50, and a chain, $15.
This is virtually all the jewelry which Mrs. Litto reported stolen.

Walker Released on Bond.
During his detention at Clayton Saturday, Walker could not be seen by reporters for a statement. Officers said he made certain statements to them. His bond was signed by Joseph Schuler, John Kelly and Charles Nash, and he was released to appear Thursday to face any charge
that might be laid against him.

THREE CONVICTIONS UPHELD
FOR FEDERAL PRISON MURDER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Conviction by courtmartial of Alexander Kahn, Donald Fisher and Robert L.

mitted while they were inmates of the Federal prison at Leavenworth, was upheld today by the Supreme Court.

Decrees of lower courts dismissing writs of error sought by the three men were affirmed.

FIRE RUINS CHURCH INTERIOR

Damage at Grace Episcopal Estimated at $10,000.
Fire from an overheated furnace ruined the interior of Grace Episcopal Church, 2600 North Twelfth street, at 6:30 o'clock last evening.
Firemen estimated the damage at $10,000. The Rev. Carl Reed Taylor, pastor, said he had no idea what the approximate loss would be.
The building is owned by the Holy Cross Corporation and was erected about 50 years ago.

7 WOMEN, 6 MEN
DEAD AFTER HOTEL
FIRE AT HOBOKEN

Police Investigating Place on Reports That Whisky Bottles Were Found in Rooms.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Jan. 31.—The death list resulting from the fire which destroyed the Hotel Colonial here, today totaled 13, seven women and six men.

The thirteenth victim, Miss Blanch Kahler, 38 years old, of Jersey City, died today in a hospital.
Two men, badly burned, are in the institution, where it was said their condition was serious.

Fire department officials started an inquiry today to determine the cause of the fire, while the Police Department investigated the manner in which the hotel was conducted.
Charges of Fire Chief Gilday that whisky bottles were found in some of the rooms caused the second inquiry.

The bodies of five of the victims,
three women and two men, badly charred, remained unidentified this morning.

Fire Chief Gilday declared that he believed the failure of Night Clerk
Groff to turn in an alarm promptly, as well as the physical condition of the victims at the time of the fire,
were largely responsible for the loss of life. He declared whisky bottles were found in some of the rooms,
and said that had the occupants been able to comprehend the warnings
that were given, he believed there would have been little if any loss of life. The chief declared the building was provided with ample fire escapes, to which open corridors afforded easy access.

The body of E. G. Snyder, Brooklyn, was identified by his wife. A woman who was with him has not been identified.

Another woman who refused to give her name, identified the body
of her companion, who was burned to death, as William Smith of Jersey City. She escaped unharmed.

The body of Miss Daisy Grey, 27, of Jersey City, was identified, as was the body of Miss Hester Peterson, 26, of Brooklyn.

NEGRO SAYS THEATER ROBBERS
CARRIED HIM AWAY IN AUTO

Declares They Seized Him When He Encountered Them Trying to Rob Safe in Alton.

Henry Hunter, 70 years old, a negro, employed as engineer at the Alton plant of the Standard-Tiltan Milling Co., called at Alton police headquarters at 7 o'clock this morning and told the following story of how he encountered safe robbers at the Grand Theater at 8 a. m.

He was on his way to work and when passing St. Paul's Episcopal Church, diagonally across the corner
from an automobile and dragged him into it. Two men, dressed in the theater, and boarded the car. They took Hunter to Venice, where they put him out and told him to make his
"get away." As they were driving away, Hunter saw a light watchman passed the theater and one of the robbers wanted to shoot at him,
but was dissuaded by his companion.
Hunter said that he was told by his captors that if he made an outcry
he would be killed.

Policemen accompanied Hunter to the theater and found that one of the doors in the front lobby had been "jimmied." An iron safe had been colled from the office into the lobby.
The manager of the theater said that the safe contained about $1800.

JUSTICE ON HORSE
HOLDS COURT ON ROAD, FINING MAN

Grafton (Ill.) Resident, With Sheriff, Meets Justice, Pleads Guilty and Pays $100.

Louis Miller of Grafton, Ill., filled up on prohibition whisky Saturday and shot up the town. Mayor Dempsey issued a warrant charging him with carrying a concealed weapon. Sheriff Catt went hunting for Miller in his automobile and found him and served the warrant.
Miller said he had no recollection of the episode but supposed he was guilty and expressed a desire to have the formalities over with as soon as possible.

He climbed into the Sheriff's automobile and up the road a little way
they met Justice Slaton on horseback. The Sheriff explained that Miller was in a hurry to plead guilty. The Justice, sitting on his horse, said he would accept the plea
in the automobile, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

WAREHOUSE COMMISSIONER'S
EMPLOYEES THREATEN TO QUIT

Move to Stop Legislative Investigation of Office—Author of Resolution to "Sit Tight."

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 31.—Unless the House reconsider the resolution of the state of the House of Representatives Department under some of the provisions of which State Auditor Hackmann is holding up the pay of the 125 employees of that department, they will quit work tomorrow and about 1000 cars of grain in Missouri will go unprotected daily, former State Senator Frank Farris
today informed Representative
Stockard, author of the resolution.
Stockard said that he intends to "sit tight" and let James T. Bradshaw, Warehouse Commissioner, handle the situation as he desires. Bradshaw is here with all his books ready for any investigation the House may order.

It is charged that Bradshaw has been paying the expenses of the department out of its receipts since July, when the appropriation for the department became exhausted. Farris, who received Bradshaw's support in his unsuccessful race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has taken charge of the situation as attorney for Bradshaw.

ment to the diplomatic bill by Representative Longworth, Republican, Ohio, authorizing an appropriation of $110,000 for purchase of an embassy building at Paris.

originally a total of $8,000,000 but with many of its provisions for support of 100 foreign consular service

Thieves in County Take Silverware.
Burglars last night jimmied open
a window of the home of Samuel O.
Davis at Clayton and North and South roads, St. Louis County, and stole a quantity of silverware from the dining room. They also ransacked the cellar, apparently in search for liquor. Davis declined to estimate the value of the articles taken. He said there was no liquor in the house. The theft was discovered today by Extra Carr, caretaker.

JEWELRY VALUED AT $4000 IS MISSING

Mrs. Carl Stolle Left Rings and Bar Pin at Home of Aunt After Reception There.

Jewelry valued at more than $4000, belonging to Mrs. Carl Stolle, wife of the president of the Carl Stolle Motor Sales Co., East St. Louis, was lost the night of Dec. 5 at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. P. Foley, 7107 Pershing avenue, University City. Mrs. Stolle advertised in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, offering $1000 reward for its return.

The jewelry lost consisted of a wedding ring of platinum set with seven small diamonds, valued at $225; a diamond engagement ring of 2 1/2 carats, valued at $1800; a dinner ring of platinum and diamonds, valued at $800, which was a wedding present, and a platinum bar pin set with 27 small diamonds, valued at about $1000.

Mr. and Mrs. Stolle were married
Nov. 15, and attended a reception given in their honor by Mrs. Foley.
Mrs. Stolle, in fear of being held up on the street, took off her jewelry
when time came to go home, and gave it to her aunt, telling her she would return it in the daytime.

Mrs. Foley said she placed the rings and the pin in a china cabinet while bidding her guests good night, and that later when she looked for them
they were gone. A thorough search was made of the house, but the jewelry could not be found.

MAJORITY AGAINST BLUE LAWS, PASTOR SAYS

The Rev. Dr. Marshall Davis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, preaching yesterday on the topic of proposed Sunday "blue laws" expressed himself in favor of laws to close commercialized places of amusement on Sunday, but added:

"We are a government of majorities and these must be respected. At the present time we suspect that a majority of the citizens of the state do not favor the closing of places of amusement on Sunday. All right. Then they will stay open, and we 'blue laws' will have to content ourselves with mere agitation."

A bill was introduced in the House of Representatives at Jefferson City, a week ago, by Representative Chaney, to prohibit Sunday performances of theaters, moving pictures and circuses, also card-playing on Sunday, with a fine of not more than $10 for violations. A similar bill was previously introduced into the Senate by Senator Senneker.

Dr. Davis said two familiar arguments were being used by the opponents of the proposed Sunday laws, one of them being "You cannot make people good by legislation," and the other the personal liberty argument. He said no attempt was being made to make people good by law, and that "we have learned in this country that nothing is against the people's want it." With many persons, he said, individualism amounts to petty anarchism, which requires an occasional rebuke.

As to the argument of class legislation, Dr. Davis said that all business should be treated alike, and that since grocery and dry goods stores are required to close on Sunday, the same requirement should be made of places of amusement. He said the churches did not expect to fill their pews by closing Sunday theaters and dance halls, but that the purpose was to "quiet the overworked nerves of the people, to promote a day on which our ladled emotions may rest, to prove that you must take time for the cultivation of many things worth while."

FOUR MEN ARRESTED IN RAID ON APARTMENT ARE FINED

Evidence Seized by "Clean-Up" Squad Indicates High School Boys Had Been Enticed to House.

Following the finding yesterday of four men who were arrested yesterday in a raid on an apartment at 4471 Olive street, Circuit Attorney Siders instructed Capt. Stinger of the police "clean-up" squad to investigate reports of several other such places, and collect evidence to lay before the grand jury.

Hunter K. Crowell of the Olive street address, a designer of millinery, was fined $300 and costs in police court today on a charge of keeping a resort. The other men were fined $100 each as frequenters. They gave their names as Albert L. Prince, of the same address, bookkeeper for a missionary society; Victor C. Heberger, 4048 North Market street, and Carl Haid, 1751 Missouri avenue, a designer.

The Circuit Attorney, after hearing Capt. Stinger's story of what was found there, said he intended to spare no effort to stamp out such places. Evidence seized during the raid indicated that a number of high school boys had been enticed there.

RAILROADS SEEK ABROGATION OF WAR AGREEMENTS

This waste would reduce railway operating expenses at least $500,000,000. It would be far better to save this sum by restoring conditions of efficient and economical operation than to reduce wages.

"We believe that as the wages of railroad employees were the last to go up, they should also be the last to come down, but we do insist that for an ample wage an honest day's work shall be given. The public has the right to insist that this must be obtained."

"The public has also the right to expect that the railway executives, with the co-operation of the regulatory bodies and the employees, will act as rapidly as possible to reduce the cost of railway operation so as to eventually insure a reduction in rates. Ultimately a readjustment of basic wages will be required. Meantime it is to the interests of all concerned, including labor, that the rules and working conditions shall be made conducive to the highest efficiency in output per man."

"Delay Will Be Dangerous." "Mr. Withers and his committee have far from exhausted their evidence on this subject and if required to will of course proceed. But it will be dangerous to continue the consideration of these agreements rule by rule. If the board follows its present procedure, months will elapse before it can render its decision."

"The urgent financial necessities of the railroads will not permit them to wait any such length of time for relief. Long before the present detailed hearings are concluded the board will be flooded by appeals from individual railroads from all parts of the country for reduction in basic wages. It will be impossible for the board to hear and dispose of these separate cases upon their merits in time to avoid numerous receiverships and the possibility of a national panic."

"When wages have been too low, the harm done has been offset by retroactive increases. Losses of railway net operating income are irreparable. You cannot make retroactive tomorrow the savings that should have been made today."

"Your board cannot possibly write the rules and working conditions of every railroad in this country and adjust them equitably to varying geographical, operating and social conditions. It rests entirely with your board to determine within the next few days whether this whole situation shall drift into chaos and disorderly procedure become impossible except at the price of railroad bankruptcy, financial shock and still wider unemployment."

"Board Can Prevent Catastrophe." "The Labor Board can prevent this catastrophe by declaring that the national agreements, rules and working conditions coming over from the war period are terminated at once; that the question of reasonable and economical rules and working conditions shall be remanded to negotiation between each carrier and its own employees, and that as the basis for such negotiations, the agreements, rules and working conditions in effect on each railroad as of Dec. 31, 1917, shall be re-established."

"If the board will do this, the Labor Committee of the Association of Railway Executives will urge upon every railroad company a party to decision No. 2, that no proposal for the reduction of basic wages shall be made within the next succeeding 90 days. This will afford an opportunity to gauge the economies which can be accomplished through more efficient rules and working conditions. It also will afford additional time in which to realize the benefits of a further decline in the cost of living."

"Imperative and Equitable." "The course which we are recommending is not only imperative, but equitable."

"When President Wilson issued his proclamation on Dec. 26, 1917, assuming Government control of the railroads, he said: 'Investors in railway securities may rest assured that their rights and interests will be as scrupulously looked after as they would be by the directors of the several railway systems.'"

"In his address to Congress Jan. 4, 1918, President Wilson said: 'The common administration will be carried on with as little disturbance of the present operating organizations and personnel of the railways as possible.'"

"The War Labor Board declared that the war period was an interregnum to be used by neither the employer or the employee for the purpose of bettering or impairing the position of either. To perpetuate as the normal rules and working conditions on the railroads, the extraordinary provisions of the war period is a distinct violation of all the foregoing promises. The war has now been over more than two years. The time has come when, if the railways are to be efficiently and economically operated in accordance with the provisions of the Transportation Act, normal conditions of employment and of working conditions must be restored and increased efficiency of labor be secured."

"If your board adopts the foregoing suggestion, there is but one aspect of the wage question on which we ask immediate action. The basic rates now established by your board for unskilled labor are from 28 to 48 1/2 cents per hour. Since your decision was made on July 20, 1920, these rates have fallen materially throughout the United States. For your board to require the railroads to continue to pay wages to unskilled labor far in excess of those paid by other industries is unfair to those industries and bears with grave injustice upon the great body of our farmers. Within the next month or six weeks practically all of the railways of the country must recruit their unskilled labor forces. It is desirable that a large part of the work for which these men are necessary be concentrated in periods when the same labor is not needed in harvesting the crops. We therefore ask the immediate permission of your board to pay for unskilled labor not less than the prevailing rate of wages in the various territories served by any carrier, in accordance with Section 307 of the transportation act. "I regret the urgency of the foregoing presentation. Its informality does not indicate any intention on the part of the railway companies to violate the principle of orderly procedure in such matters. But to sit by and see this situation develop without bringing it promptly and strongly to the attention of this board would be to sacrifice both the spirit and the letter of the transportation act.

"In our judgment, unless the proposed measures be taken promptly by your board, a situation will shortly develop in which orderly procedure will become entirely impossible. Your board will be faced with the gravest responsibilities, which it could not possibly successfully perform, in a condition of national confusion, if not of chaos."

CAMPAIGN BEGUN TO BRING FEDERAL HOSPITAL HERE

Junior Chamber of Commerce Appeals to Civic and Commercial Organizations to Co-operate.

ESTIMATED COST
TO BE $2,500,000

Five Public Health Service Institutions Provided for in Bill Favorably Reported in Congress.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce
today sent a letter to all civic and commercial organizations in the city urging them to co-operate in the movement started yesterday in a petition to bring to St. Louis one of the five Public Health Service hospitals provided for in a bill reported favorably in Congress last week by the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds. The estimated cost of the erection of the hospital is $2,500,000.

It was announced that the Chamber of Commerce already was cooperating and that the Industrial Commissioner of the chamber was preparing data to be presented before the committee in support of the claims of St. Louis. Congressman
Dyer was quoted yesterday in a Washington dispatch as saying that he was confident St. Louis could get one of the hospitals if the bill became a law.

St. Louis Favorably Situated.
The Junior Chamber of Commerce, in its communication today,
requests all other interested organizations to impress upon the House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds that St. Louis wants the hospital and is, in fact, the most favorable location for serving the central Southwestern district of the United States, which the House Committee proposed should be served by one of the projected institutions.
A special committee of the Junior Chamber to further this project will be appointed by the board of directors tomorrow night. Meantime all the activities in this connection
are being directed by the executive officers of the Junior Chamber.

It is proposed to point out to the House Committee that St. Louis is most favorably situated of any city
with reference to railroads serving the central Southwestern district of the United States. The present standing of the city in a medical way, on account of the large number of hospitals already here and its high-grade medical schools, also will be used as an argument.

The Public Health Service has taken over the care and treatment of men who served in the great war
and such institutions as it has available for this work at present are said to be crowded and inadequate for the increasing demands made upon them.

Hospital in Infirmary.
A public health service hospital is now being conducted in St. Louis in the building at 5800 Arsenal street
which formerly was used as the city infirmary. The city leased this building to the Government at $12,000 a year during the war, as a patriotic measure, and recently Mayor Kiel went to Washington and asked that the building be returned to the city or that the rental be increased to $40,000 a year. The Mayor said the city needed the building, as the present quarters of the infirmary in Sherman Park are inadequate.

The construction of a new public health hospital here would undoubtedly relieve this situation, for the Government would no longer require the use of the city building. At the Public Health Service headquarters,
6801 Delmar boulevard, University
City, it was said nothing was known of the Government's intentions with reference to the future of the local hospital.

Mayor Kiel said upon his return
from Washington that Senator Spencer and Representative Dyer had told him they were preparing a measure for an appropriation for a new public health service hospital here.

FRANK S. SAEGER FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services for Frank S. Saeger, 58 years old, of 2443 North Grand avenue, were held today from Bethany Evangelical Church to Bethany Cemetery. Saegeer was organist and choirman of the church for 33 years. A short service was held at the residence yesterday afternoon. At the services today Charles Galloway was at the organ
and Saegeer's choir sang.
Saegeer conducted the Saegeer
School of Music and was an instructor in music at Eden Theological Seminary. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma Saegeer, and one son, Francis, of Oakland, Cal.

MISTAKES ACID FOR WHISKY

Hesekiah Hudson, 29 years old, of 915 Salisbury street, a foreman employed by the Terminal Railroad at Madison, Ill., went on a "moonshine"
spree yesterday afternoon, and when no more whisky was available attempted to swallow a quantity of carbolic acid in the soft-drink saloon of Mrs. Ella Wittale, 1847 North Broadway.
At the city hospital it was found that only the interior of his mouth was burned. He explained that he had purchased the acid for his know-
and that after becoming intoxicated, mistook the acid for whisky.

MAN WHO DROVE INTO LAKE FOUND TO BE H. L. ANGERER

Police Discover Tie Dealer to Be Owner of Car Which Upset in Forest Park.

After investigation for more than 26 hours, the police today learned that a driver who accidentally ran his Hudson touring car into the Round Lake in Forest Park at 9:15
p. m. Saturday was H. L. Angerer, 42 years old, of 3643 Washington
boulevard, a dealer in railroad ties.

It became known for the first time
that three men were in the machine
with Angerer when the accident occurred. Angerer today explained that he was driving through the park
in a heavy rain and that the water
on the windshield and the haziness
of the atmosphere prevented him from seeing the lake. The machine turned over, precipitating the four men in the water, which was shallow.
Angerer said they all crawled out unhurt and he telephoned to a garage and had the machine removed from the lake. A park guard took the license number of the car and reported to the police. Angerer had only recently moved from a hotel to the Washington avenue address and policemen investigating the case yesterday could not learn where he lived.

They found him at his office today.
He said he had considered the Accident too trivial to report to the police.

WHITESIDE VIVID IN STEVENSON'S ROMANCE

Gives Portrait of Two Faces as James Durie in "The Master of Ballantrae."

Walker Whiteside, returning to this city after an absence of about five years, presented at the American Theater last night a stage version of Robert Louis Stevenson's melodramatic tale of fraternal hatred, "The Master of Ballantrae." In the present heyday of revues and tingles, the choice of such a subject—however the original may be disfigured—is in itself refreshing and attractive; an effort worthy of respect and of a larger audience than the handful at the opening performance. The play, one must admit, is distinctly inferior to the novel, although its chief characters, many of the incidents and a quantity of Stevenson's admirably worded dialogue are retained. In the first place, the adapter, Carl Mason, was so prepossessed with the principle of dramatic unity of place as to situate in one single locale, a hall in Durrdeer Castle, Scotland, an action which in the book ranges from land to sea, from tropical India to the frozen wastes of North America. It was felt necessary to suppress, alter or vary the emphasis of several of Stevenson's most carefully elaborated climaxes. The stress of certain of the characters also has been changed; for instance, the derelict village girl, Jessie Brown, has a far more important role in the play than in the novel; and the same is true of John Paul, a charmer. On the other hand, the dramatist has painted the Lily, or rather attached a megaphone to what was already a trumpet, by adding a super-natural element. The entrance of Whiteside in the first act is theatrically prepared by means of a suit of armor which recedes doggerel; stage thunder, lightning and rain, and specters which roar about the walls. But the play retains in its central position the motive of deadly enmity between two brothers, James and Henry Durie—rivals for money, for the love of a woman and for the affection of their father. James, the Master of Ballantrae, is still Stevenson's composite—charming, brilliant, diabolical; Henry, his foil, is again the plodding stay-at-home, prosaic, unselfish and good. Once more they battle for the sums wrung from their father's impoverished estate, and for the heart of Henry's wife, Alison. In the play Henry wins a complete victory; in the novel he was victorious also, but at the cost of reason and life. The play begins at the one-hundredth page of the novel, with the arrival of James Durie from India with his sinister servant, Secundra Dass. His previous adventures are left in retrospect. The second act comes to its height with a scene of love-making between James and Alison, in which she is wrought upon to promise to fly with him. In the third act is a duel between Henry and James, adapted from earlier pages of the book, which is interrupted by the arrival of smugglers to avenge on the Master the wrongs of Jessie Brown. This incident is an invention of the dramatist. In the crisis—which in the book was the prospective murder of James by a band of cutthroats in the American wilderness—Secundra Dass attempts to save his master by means of the device reported to be used by Indian fakirs for inducing artificial death, that of swallowing the tongue. In the book, Secundra buried James alive for a week; but he died immediately upon being resuscitated, because of the cold of the Northern climate. In the play the Master is revived immediately on the floor of his father's home, but nevertheless dies at once, the same reason of cold being given. Whiteside's James Durie. Whiteside brought to the part of James his familiar talents—the clear and finely modulated elocution, the speaking voice of an one who has studied singing, the expressive features and eyes, the effective restraint of action and gesture. His Master is at once winning and Mephistophelian; a two-sided portrait lucidly articulated. An admirable and vivid piece of characterization is that of Maurice Barrett as Secundra Dass; and the audience gained the chief thrill of the evening from his gruesome illustration, in the early part of the play, of how death may be simulated by the process of tongue-swallowing. Other actors who won applause were James Macue, in his brief appearance as Col. Burke, a blustering soldier of fortune; Alexander F. Frank, as the close-fisted steward, Mackellar; Sydney Shields, as Alison, after an incident of pathos; and Nancy Stewart, in her few minutes of prominence as the wronged, tipsy and vengeful Jessie Brown.

Guy Bates Post Back at Shubert in "The Masquerader." Guy Bates Post came back to the Shubert-Jefferson Theater last night with "The Masquerader," the drama which he has been playing almost continuously for five seasons and although the star declares that this is to be his last year in the John Hunter Booth dramatization of Katherine Cecil Thurston's novel, he will have a difficult time securing another vehicle in which he will be as well fitted. The cast supporting Mr. Post is practically the same as it was when he appeared here last season. There have been one or two minor changes but as "The Masquerader" is strictly a one-man drama and as Mr. Post in the dual role of John Loder, the newspaper man, and John Chilcote, member of Parliament, is on the stage almost every minute of the three-hour performance, the rest of the company matters very little. However, the other members of the cast are excellent and the perform-

COLORADO GOVERNOR'S RANCH PURCHASED BY ST. LOUISAN

Samuel F. Myerson Buys 3560-Acre Tract 15 Miles North of Colorado Springs.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 31.—In a deal closed Saturday whereby Gov. Shoup sold his 3560-acre Cathedral Rock ranch at Huerfano, 15 miles north of Colorado Springs, to Samuel F. Myerson of St. Louis, the consideration was $175,000. The sale includes pedigreed Percheron and Belgian horses and a large herd of Hereford cattle. Gov. Shoup bought the ranch several years ago, raising pedigreed horses and cattle. It is considered the second finest ranch in El Paso County. The ranch is watered by three streams, available all the year round. Samuel F. Myerson resides at 5733 Cabanne avenue. It was said at his home today that he had not returned from Colorado, and details of the purchase of the ranch were not known, although it was said he had been considering purchasing a ranch in Colorado.

6171 Killed Selves in U. S. in 1920. By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Cases of suicide in the United States during the year of 1920 numbered 6171, including 707 children, members of the Save-a-Life League were told here yesterday by Dr. H. M. Warren, president of the league. This exceeded the figures of the previous year by more than 1000 cases, he said. During the year 2604 women died through self-destruction. SENATE TO CONSIDER FIXING DATE FOR TARIFF BILL VOTE

Penrose to Propose Final Action on Feb. 15—To Ask for Closure Rule if That Date Is Rejected.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill, a subject of vehement charges and denials of filibusters for the past week, today had reached the critical stage of its course in the Senate, with Republican leaders prepared to bring it to a final test. Under a plan of action adopted Saturday, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Finance Committee, was authorized to ask again today for unanimous consent on fixing a date for a final vote on the measure. It was understood the Senator would propose Feb. 15 as the date. Believing objection to fixing a time for final vote almost certainly would be forthcoming from Democratic opponents, Republican leaders had agreed that as the next step Senator Penrose would present a petition for cloture. Prospects for obtaining the necessary two-thirds vote to invoke cloture, however, were admitted by Republican managers to be exceedingly slim. Vote on adoption of cloture, under the Senate rules, would come next Wednesday. In the event of failure either to fix a date for a final vote or to adopt cloture, Republicans said, they would be compelled to lay aside the tariff measure and take up the accumulating money bills.

JAPANESE ARE SATISFIED WITH MINISTERS' AGREEMENT

Address in Senate by Ambassador Morris Met With Considerable Approval in Tokyo.

TOKIO, Jan. 21.—Cabled summaries of the reported agreement reached between Roland S. Morris, the American Ambassador to Japan, and Shidehara, the Japanese Minister to the United States, concerning the dispute between the United States and Japan, have aroused satisfaction here.

The Japanese papers generally welcome the purported settlement, but comments cautiously on it, pointing out that the United States Senate has yet to ratify the agreement. Considerable approval is evinced over recent addresses in the United States by Ambassador Morris, whose utterances are characterized as being a fearless exposition of the controversy.

Referring to the negotiations in the Diet, Viscount Uchida, the Foreign Minister, explained that further progress might be necessary. The Foreign Minister admitted, as was contended by the Government Interpellator, Eisuijiro Uchida, that the "gentlemen's agreement" minimized the chances of bringing the peoples of Japan and the United States into closer contact and was inconsistent with the attainment of real friendship, but said this was unavoidable.

Japan, the Foreign Minister added, had not altered the application of military conscription to Japanese abroad.

Though this appeared not to be pleasing to the Americans, nevertheless Japan generally had done her utmost to remove all obstacles to a genuine understanding with America. The Minister said the agreement reached by the Ambassadors would be submitted to the Diplomatic Advisory Council.

DEVELOPMENT OF CHEMISTRY IS BEING PUSHED AT W. U.

Outlay of $25,000 Just Completed to Bring Department Up to the Highest Standards.

Bringing of the chemistry department of Washington University up to a point of equality with any in the country, has just been completed at an outlay of about $25,000. The analytical chemistry section was occupied by students two weeks ago, and the regular laboratory will be used for the first time Tuesday, when the second semester opens. Dr. Le Roy McMaster, professor of chemistry, says that in its present highly efficient form, the department will be of incalculable benefit to St. Louis as well as to the university, because of its facilities for research activities.

In order to reorganize the department on the broadest practicable lines, it has been given the entire Busch Building. The general laboratory will accommodate 143 students, and the analytical section 100. About 500 students are taking the chemistry courses. Each of the laboratories is fitted with modern appliances.

When the School of Fine Arts of Washington University opens for its second semester Monday, it is expected to have a student body numbering about 400, or close to 100 more than at any former period in its history. Discussing the urgent need of a new, modern and spacious building for the Art School, the progress of which, in recent years, has been notable, Chancellor Hall of the university stated that while that section of the university was linked in tentative plans for the improvement of the Skinner road front, as one of three or four units, the Art School structure could well be erected in advance at a cost of $150,000 to $175,000.

JAPANESE SENTRY'S FIRST STORY UNTRUE

Statement That American Officer Passed Him, Then Turned and Fired, Retracted.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Jan. 21.—Official inquiry has shown the story first told by the sentry who shot and killed Lieut. W. H. Langdon of the United States cruiser Albany at Vladivostok early this month, was untrue, says the Asahi Shimbun of Osaka, which quotes Consul Kikuchi of the Political Department of the Japanese Army. The Consul, it is said, has declared the sentry canceled his statement and emphasis is placed on the declaration that his action was not the result of interference or pressure by the Foreign Office on army authorities. The investigation of the incident was not influenced by political considerations, it is asserted.

"The fact that Admiral Albert Gleaves of the American Asiatic fleet left Vladivostok after a day's stay," the newspaper says, "shows he recognized the sincere and upright attitude of the men conducting the inquiry."

Reports published by the Yomi Uri Shimbun of this city to the effect that the sentry had been found guilty and that Japan would apologize to the United States for his action have not as yet been confirmed at the War Office. The newspaper asserted the findings of the courtmartial which tried the sentry had been received here.

The American Consul at Vladivostok had published an announcement that the United States had not asked any Government to lend assistance in protecting the lives and property of Americans in Siberia, and that he was not aware that any Government had made any such request.

The first explanation of the shooting by the Japanese sentry was that he had challenged Lieut. Langdon on his way to his ship early in the morning, that the American ignored the challenge, and after passing the sentry, turned and opened fire.

Body of Lieut. Langdon to Be Sent to U. S. on Transport.

By the Associated Press.

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 21.—Admiral Albert Gleaves, Commander in Chief of the American Asiatic fleet, returned to Manila yesterday from Vladivostok aboard the United States destroyer Elliott with the body of Lieut. Warren H. Langdon, who was killed at Vladivostok by a Japanese sentry. The body will be sent to the United States aboard a transport.

Admiral Gleaves, who went to Vladivostok with a naval court of inquiry, spent 36 hours in the city. He said he had a long, pleasant call from Gen. O. the Japanese commander, and from the Japanese Consul-General.

Modern Woodmen to Meet.

One of the features of the Modern Woodmen of America convention, to be held here in June, will be exhibition and competitive drills for prizes totaling $10,000. Twelve army officers will be detailed by the War Department to act as judges in the drill. The plans of the Convention Committee, which met here last week, is to establish an encampment here for the Foresters' Division of the lodge, which 4000 uniformed members will be housed. More than 10,000 persons are expected to attend the convention.

DAM WRECKED BY AN EXPLOSION

By the Associated Press.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Jan. 21.—The Cold Spring dam at Cold Spring, about 20 miles from here, was virtually destroyed by an explosion early yesterday. A section of the dam, 20 feet wide, was torn out and two turbines at the Cold Spring Power Co.'s plant were put out of commission.

The village of Cold Spring will be without light and power for several days. Officials said about 100 pounds of dynamite apparently had been

A reward of $2000 has been offered by the village for capture and conviction of those who caused the explosion.

The dam has been the cause of court action since 1914 when it was built, objections being voiced to it on the ground that 1000 acres of land were damaged by water backed up by the dam.

Customs Officers Seize Jewelry.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Jewelry valued at more than $3000 was taken from the baggage of Miss Juliette de Coppet, who arrived on the Aquitania yesterday, by customs officers, who claimed it had not been declared for the assessment of duty.

Miss de Coppet, who is prominent socially, was not detained, but the jewelry was held pending an investigation. The accidental finding of an empty jewelry case in an unoccupied stateroom led to the discovery of the valuables in the effects of Miss de Coppet, customs authorities said.

MAN FATALLY SHOT IN FIGHT IN ROOM

Patrolman Wounded in Encounter at 101 South Third Street After Man Terrorizes Neighborhood.

SAID TO HAVE FIRED
FATAL SHOT HIMSELF

Blacksmith's Helper Had Finger on Trigger When Weapon Was Against Him—Theory He Was Drugged

William Franck, 54 years old, apparently crazed by drink or drugs, was shot and fatally wounded in an encounter with two policemen in his room on the third floor of 101 South Third street about 5:15 p. m. yesterday after he had terrorized the neighborhood by firing shots in a saloon and on the street. He died at the city hospital at 8:15 p. m.

In an exchange of shots in his room Franck wounded Patrolman Spotswood Joplin of Central District, who went to the room with Patrolman James Cassidy. The bullet pierced Joplin's belt, was deflected by a trousers button and landed around under the skin of his left side, lodging in the back. At the city hospital this morning it was said the wound was not serious.

Pulled Trigger Himself.
Joplin, after being taken to the city hospital, said that the wound in the abdomen which caused Franck's death was fired from Franck's own revolver. He said that after Franck had shot him he grappled with Franck, grasping Franck's revolver with both hands and forcing it back so that the muzzle was against Franck's abdomen. At the same time warning Franck that if he fired again he would shoot himself. Despite this warning, he said, Franck again pulled the trigger.

The theory that Franck may have been under the influence of drugs was advanced by Patrolman John Walsh, who walks the beat, but who was not on duty at the time of the shooting. Walsh said he had known Franck for several years. He was a blacksmith's helper, but recently could find no employment at his trade and had done odd jobs for various fur companies. Walsh said Franck recently told him that an ailment had made several operations necessary and he was taking medicine to deaden the pain of his ailment.

Fired Revolver in Saloon.
At 5 p. m. yesterday Franck entered John Kaufmann's saloon on the first floor of 101 South Third street and started Kaufmann and several customers by drawing a revolver and firing a shot into the ceiling. He then ran out of the saloon. Belle Callaway, a negro, of 115 South Third street, was passing. He flourished the revolver and fired a shot into the ground near her feet. Otto Hugelmann, a fellow roomer, induced Franck to go upstairs.

Mr. J. J. Tammath telephoned from the rectory of the Old Cathedral that shots were being fired in the neighborhood. Signal Officer Reeves was sent there in the patrol wagon with instructions to pick up policemen on the way. At Fourth and Walnut streets he found Patrolmen Joplin and Cassidy at a patrol box with a prisoner. He picked up the policemen and the prisoner.

Arriving at the house where the shooting later occurred, Reeves remained in the wagon to guard the prisoner and Joplin and Cassidy went to Franck's room.

Room Entered by Policemen.
After being taken to the hospital Reeves said he knocked on the door and when there was no answer, he opened the door and threw a light of a flashlight into the room. Franck jumped up from a bed and said: "Get out of here or I'll kill some of you." Franck, the policeman said, advanced with a revolver in his hand and fired the shot which wounded Joplin. He was still advancing when Joplin grappled with him. Cassidy then entered the room and fired twice, wounding Franck twice in the left side, but apparently not injuring him seriously. Then, according to Joplin's account, the twisting back of Franck's wrist in the struggle for the revolver caused Franck to shoot himself.

Franck fired one shot at Cassidy, the bullet passing through the visor of Cassidy's cap. Cassidy knocked Franck's hand up as the trigger was pulled and was at such close quarters that the sight of the gun struck his chin and cut it.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old-style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.

TURPO
For every Cold and Congestion

SMITH BROTHERS' S. B. COUGH DROPS
Put one in your mouth at bedtime

The Turpentine Ointment That Gives Immediate Relief in All Cold Troubles and Congestion. Mothers Use it to Prevent Development of Children's Colds.

For several winters a large number of people, especially mothers of small children, have prevented the serious effects from neglected colds by using Turpo—the new Turpentine Ointment which, applied externally, drives a cold away overnight, relieves congestion of all kinds, and has valuable antiseptic properties.

There is nothing mysterious or secret about Turpo—it is a scientific combination of distilled Turpentine, Camphor and Menthol, in a salve or ointment which, being readily absorbed through the skin, carries the recognized and beneficial effects of these medicines to the root of the trouble. Turpo, applied up the nostrils at the first sign of a cold, relieves congestion and headache, clears the air passages, checking the cold at the very root, and prevents its developing into more serious trouble.

Pneumonia and influenza may develop from a neglected cold—especially in children, and careful mothers are now using Turpo as a standard household application, to be used at the first sign of "sniffles" in the child. For sore colds, Turpo rubbed on the throat and chest gets under the skin, clearing the congestion, without blistering the skin or staining the clothing.

Turpo is also of value to give relief in catarrh, hacking cough, sore throat, and as an antiseptic application for cuts, wounds and burns. Ask your doctor or druggist about Turpo—they will confirm that it is a good, honest remedy.

Sold in white oval jars with orange and black label, 30c and 60c. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you are not entirely satisfied.

Philadelphia Taxicab Strike Ends. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—Taxicab drivers, who have been on strike here for about three months, voted last night to return to work, thus terminating one of the bitterest labor disputes Philadelphia has witnessed in recent years. During the strike two men were killed and many others were maimed by exploding bombs placed in the vehicles of the taxicab companies affected by the walkout. Taxicabs valued at $90,000 were either blown up or wrecked by being driven over embankments.

"THE GREAT LOVER" A FINE PHOTOPLAY

Melodrama, Mother Love and a Gangster's Reform Featured on Other Bills.

"The Great Lover," Leo Dittichstein's play by Frederic and Fanny Hatton, which came to the Delmonte Theater yesterday for a half week's stay as a movie drama, is a fine example of what can be done on the screen when the cinema directors are willing—in this case, probably, obliged—to forego the "sex appeal" and content themselves with a good story, well told.

For "The Great Lover," as made into a movie drama, is one of the best and most interesting pictures shown here in some time, although the action, occasionally, is rather tedious. In the spoken play much depended upon the brightness of the lines and the acting of Mr. Dittichstein. In the movie some of the best lines have been transformed into titles and John Sainpolis gives an excellent imitation of Dittichstein.

There is no star in the movie cast, but the entire company is well advanced and the photography is good. The story is that of a male opera star, 46 years of age—not counting Sundays and holidays—who is the hero of most women and who keeps a card index of his many conquests. Finally he really falls in love with a young singer just as he loses his wonderful voice. They are to be married, but through her real sweetheart the great lover finds the girl he loved in his own youth and everything ends happily.

Gang Story Play at Missouri.
A gang leader is the hero in "The Frontier of the Stars," a film version of the Albert Payson Terhune story, which opened at the Missouri Theater yesterday. Tom Meighan portrays an amiable sort of crook, with the insidious effect that before the action has proceeded very far the audience is wheedled into sympathy with a ne'er-do-well who ought to be in jail. Chased by a detective, the gang leader takes refuge on the roof of a tenement and there he finds an invalid girl in a wheel chair. She has never walked and all her waking hours are spent on the roof. Faire Binney has the role of the girl. She has a wonderful effect on the crook. One look into her eyes and he decides to reform, but a short time later we find him receiving loot from his gang of burglars and taking as his share a fine pair of field glasses which he carries as a gift to the girl.

It turns out that the invalid girl is a sister of the detective who chased the crook onto the roof. The detective has sworn to break up the gang. The crook's visits to the detective's sister arouse the suspicion of the other gang members and they lay a plot to betray him. When he is in grave danger the girl who has never walked suddenly jumps from her invalid chair and goes to his aid. She is permanently cured. It only remains for the crook to rescue her from a burning building, thus squaring all accounts with her detective brother.

Action of Wild West Type.
There is an abundance of melodramatic action of the "Wild West" type, including the inevitable "dance hall," gambling den and "grog shop" scenes in "The U. P. Trail," which opened yesterday at the Liberty. It is all about a young civil engineer of the early '80s who goes into the West to help build the Union Pacific Railroad, but is sidetracked into rescuing a young woman who has been abducted by Indians. After he has saved the girl a villainous gambler and his gang kidnap her again. For a time the young engineer falls under the spell of the woman proprietor of a notorious saloon and dance hall who assumes almost the importance of a heroine in the photo-play. She loves the engineer, but when she learns that he loves the "other girl" she sacrifices all her hopes, helps him rescue the girl, and in doing so is mortally wounded. In the cast are Kathryn Williams, Roy Stewart, Marguerite de la Motte, Joseph J. Dowling and Charles B. Murphy. Most of the characters are killed off in gun fights before story ends.

Chance for a Censor.
One function of an intelligent censorship—if such a one is conceivable—would be to prevent the showing of such films as "The Woman in His House," which opened yesterday at the New Grand Central and West End Lyric.

This picture is not merely insane; it is positively mischievous. When scientists and humanitarians are devoting lives of earnest effort to acquainting people with scientific facts, it is detestable that their work should be nullified in the minds of sentimental and credulous persons by a commercial enterprise.

As for the theme of the "play," it was lifted almost bodily from a picture called "The Unbeliever," or some similar title, which was shown several years ago. It is a fantastic story of a great physician whose formulas all come to naught before the deformity of his child, who is then restored to normal health by the sight of his mother.

The affection of a woman for her offspring is doubtless capable of accomplishing many things, but the cure of infantile paralysis is not one of them, and any dramatic portrayal which promulgates such a theme is doing harm to the community. Apparently the only serious purpose of the film is the mean one of belittling medical science.

Upon seeing the picture, one is convinced that if any "great physician" was harassed by the piffing platitudes of a "friend," such as this one, and by the puerile jealousy of such a wife as Mildred Harris portrays, he would bundle the whole lot out of the house. The only relief in the entire performance is the truly remarkable acting of the child, Richard Hedrick.

The C

It Appears That the Scullins Will Enter a Protest Against the Bricklayers Working Overtime

Bricklayers Put Scullins Out of Soccer Title Race, Aided by Referee McKenzie

Final Goal of 2-1 Score Made When Only Nine Scullins Were Left in the Game and 2 1/2 Minutes After Time Was Up—Tested Penalty Kick Ties the Score With 4 Minutes to Play.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—A penalty kick, for which St. Louis players asserted there was little reason, awarded four minutes before time was up and another goal tallied two and one-half minutes after time was up, gave the Bricklayers of Chicago a 2-1 victory over the Scullins of the St. Louis Soccer League in the replay of the fifth U. S. F. A. contest here yesterday. The defeat eliminated St. Louis from the U. S. title race, unless a protest alters the result.

Even the Chicagoans were thunderstruck when McKenzie, a Chicago referee, awarded the "Brickies" a penalty kick. The veteran, Henry Govier, who has played soccer many years and was rooting for the Chicago team, inquired: "What was the foul?"

After the game Referee McKenzie, who is remembered by St. Louisans as the official in the final between the Ben Millers and Fore River last season, stated that he had awarded the penalty "because Len Zarchel, Scullin center half back, tripped Politt in the penalty area." Although Politt was the man McKenzie claimed was tripped, he did not fall. And there were plenty of spills yesterday. The field was a mass of mud and the game was played in a snowstorm. It was staged under the worst conditions that could be imagined. No more than 400 persons were on hand. The gate receipts were $275.

The Chicago players were disgusted. Most of them just stated that they did not want to give their opinion when approached in the clubhouse, after the completion of the contest; but Manager Cummings of the Chicago team said he did not like to win a game in the manner in which yesterday's contest was captured. "Bad Decision," Chicagoans say.

"Sandy" Graham, the 40-year-old forward, who scored the goal which gave the Bricklayers a tie in the game at St. Louis, was more talkative. Graham, who played soccer abroad, said that in his time he had seen some bad decisions, but none worse. He said that if a game could not be won cleanly he did not want to win it at all. In talking to Cliff Brady, in the presence of the writer, Graham said: "Dick Vidano was all in, and I told him to leave the field. He refused, and then I said, 'Fall down in the penalty area and you will get a corner kick, sure.' And imagine my surprise when four minutes before time we were awarded the kick on a foul in the penalty area."

Len Zarchel, the player who McKenzie said tripped Politt, asserted after the game that he had simply beaten Politt to the ball and rubbed elbows with him, but that there was absolutely no tripping. On the award of the penalty kick

Scullins Outplay Rivals in First Half; Extended Rest Period Aids Bricklayers

As for the game itself, the Scullins played a far more aggressive article of soccer than in the tilt at St. Louis the previous week. During the entire first half they completely outplayed their opponents, but in the closing period, after McKenzie had allowed a 25-minute rest, while it is customary to give only 10, the Chicagoans had the better of it. During the intermission the bricklayers had a chance to change uniforms, while the Scullins were forced to play in their wet clothes.

Charlie Bechtold, center forward of the Scullins who scored the lone goal for Tate Brady's club, was unable to finish, because of illness. When the Brickies scored the winning point there were only nine opponents on the field.

Some of the prettiest soccer possible was seen in the first half, and the scoring of the goal for the Scullins. This came after 15 minutes of play, when Mulvey waded down the field with the sphere, crossed to Brannigan, who in turn handed it to Bechtold, who sent the ball through.

For the remainder of the period the Scullins had the better of it, making long kicks and beating the Windy City men to the ball. The Brickies tried the short pass game which did not work, because the ball stuck in the mud.

After the intermission the Chicago men were more refreshed than the Scullins and started rushing matters. However, they were unable to break through the stonewall defense which the St. Louis players formed in front of the upright. There were many lively mixups and most of them ended with Chicago getting a free kick for a foul.

Force as they might, however, the Bricklayers could not break through. Then came the penalty four minutes before time was up. Fullback Dixon was called up to make the kick and shot one straight at Oseilerman, which the latter partially stopped, but could not get out of the danger zone before Dixon tore in and sent it into the net.

Immediately after the kickoff, the Brickies came right down the field and after "sawing" several time, Ditch Oseilerman, the Scullin goalie, left the upright and Politt banged one through.

Charlie Bechtold, Scullin forward who was in bad shape after the game, while Tommy O'Hanlon suffered a badly cut knee. Tommy says some one hoisted him while he was on the ground.

Speakers who paid 75 cents at yesterday's game were showed no consideration than those who witness municipal clashes in the same parts of St. Louis. The field is right next to Comiskey field and I have never dealt with a player's business manager, and inasmuch as Hornsby is signed, I do not know what could be done if a tenses' business manager came to me. However, I would be willing to discuss the case."

Ames	3	5	.375
Washington	2	4	.333
Oklahoma	0	4	.000
Grinnell	0	4	.000
Drake	0	6	.000

The completion of the first half of the Missouri Valley Conference basketball schedule finds the University of Missouri five still leading the procession with an unbroken run of eight victories.

The double win over the Kansas U. team last week and dispelled the last doubt in the minds of Tiger followers that Craig Ruby would have a title team. Kansas, Ames, Washington and Oklahoma have been defeated, while comparative scores point to easy wins over the Kansas Aggies, Drake and Grinnell. Nebraska will not be played.

There were two shifts in the Valley standings. The Aggie move to runner-up position because of their win over Drake, while the Jayhawks were being plumed; and Ames climbed ahead of Washington as a result of the local series. Grinnell, Oklahoma and Nebraska had conference games.

The advent of the Ames team to the local court resulted in disaster to the Washington club. Besides adding a letter to the headlock, the way club, the Jayhawks showed the hilltoppers that they will have to adopt a new system in order to cope with the strong M. V. C. teams during the next half of the schedule.

LEWIS' MANAGER WIRES PROTEST AGAINST BAN ON USE OF "HEADLOCK" NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The barring of the headlock has stirred the ire of Billy Sandow, manager of "Strangler" Lewis, who yesterday telegraphed to Jack Curley:

"Your action in barring Lewis' headlock causing us to lose thousands of dollars. Other promoters are following your example and cutting away our matches. You certainly are giving Lewis a raw deal, and I intend to fight you to a finish in this matter, and it is not fair to the champion."

Curley at once telegraphed Sandow that he ruled against the headlock, save the local wrestling games, and that the demand came from the press and public. Curley yesterday sent Sandow's acceptance for a match to the finish with Jim London. This makes the match certain, and Curley has set Feb. 14 for the match.

BILLIKENS SCHEDULE 8 AT-HOME GRIDIRON GAMES St. Louis University's complete football schedule for the 1921 schedule, as announced by Father Hermann, director of athletics, this morning, provides for eight at-home games and only one away game. The contest will be with Creighton University at Omaha, Nov. 5.

Creighton, Drake and Kansas City are newcomers on the schedule, while Drury and Lombard have returned, after absences of several years. The schedule follows: Sept. 24—St. Louis U. vs. Drury, in St. Louis.

Oct. 1—Kansas City University vs. St. Louis U., in St. Louis. Oct. 8—Missouri University vs. St. Louis U., in St. Louis. Oct. 22—De Pauw vs. St. Louis U., in St. Louis.

Babe Asher Reappears Tonight; Unknown Faces Jimmy Murphy

Double Boxing Feature at the Armory Promises Interesting Events—Buddie Taylor, Who Meets Veteran Bantam, Is Said to Have Defeated Frankie Mason.

By John E. Wray. The reappearance here of "Babe" Asher in one of two features of the National Sporting Club's boxing show tonight will be the most important event on the program. Asher will oppose the shifty little Ashton Donza, who ran into two of Peewee Kahner's "aces" in his last encounter and was snuffed out of all bantam title hopes thereby.

The other important bout on the program will bring together an out-of-town and unknown fighter, Buddie Taylor, and the veteran Jimmy Murphy, a match of unknown quality.

The first "wind-up" will unquestionably prove fast and, very likely, interesting. Asher returns to the city benefited by experience in other fields and after bouts with some good opponents. His manager says he has headed his style and now punches harder. Babe was a devotee of the dancing faun stuff when he faced Jimmy Wilde here, and on subsequent occasions. He is said now to "follow through" instead of landing on the run.

Donza is a dangerous little man, aggressive and continually coming back for more. He was beating Kaiser when a left hook dazed him and started him on the way to dreamland. Neither of the principals in this bout has demonstrated that he can knock out a fighter of good caliber, as yet.

Buddie Taylor won a match on the strength of his manager's conversation. The little fellow weighs 110 pounds and says that he had the best of the fight.

Three Local Men Given Places on "All" Track Team

Murchison, Scholz and Lincoln Placed on List of America's Best Athletes.

The publication of athletic manual for the present year, as usual, brings out an official "All-America selection" of athletes made by Fred W. Rublen of New York, secretary of the organization.

The list is especially interesting in that it names three men from St. Louis as national champions in their divisions, as follows: J. V. Scholz in the 60-yard dash, Loren Murchison in the 300-yard dash and J. C. Lincoln in the javelin throw.

One colored athlete, Sol Butler, is named in the broad jump. The list follows:

Willard Here on Big Deal; Asserts He Is Not 'Broke'

Signed to Fight Dempsey to Retrieve His Pugilistic Reputation, He Says.

OIL VENTURES PROSPER Former Champion Kills Story That His Fortune Was Wrecked by Bad Investments.

Jess Willard has decided to return to the prize ring because he thinks that he can beat Jack Dempsey and regain his lost world's heavyweight championship title.

He told this to a Post-Dispatch reporter, this morning, while denying the report that his "comeback" effort was due to failures in recent oil speculations.

"The announcement that I would endeavor to regain the championship has been attributed to various speculations," stated Willard at a downtown hotel, "but I wish to say emphatically that there is only one thought that led me to the decision. It is my certainty that I can defeat Jack Dempsey."

"The most ridiculous rumor is that I have lost in oil ventures. As a matter of fact," he continued, "I have made more money in the oil business than I ever did at boxing. If there is anyone who doubts this statement, they have permission to consult my bankers as to my financial condition."

Willard arrived in St. Louis last night for the purpose of conferring with his business associates concerning the purchase of oil land in Mexico. He expects to depart today. It is the largest transaction that he has entered into since venturing into the oil business and he may go to Mexico City from here to investigate the properties. If he does not go to Mexico, he will go directly to Hollywood, Cal., where he has purchased a home.

Willard in Good Condition. The former title holder says that he is not out of condition and a few weeks of intensive work would put him in readiness for his proposed bout with the champion on March 17. His appearance bears out the statement, inasmuch as there seems to be very little superfluous flesh on him. Jess has any unwelcome embonpoint he must have a mighty good tailor, because his body tapers nicely from the shoulders to the waist. There is no flabbiness in his face and the heralded double-chin must have been massaged away this morning.

He claims that he has trained for the past few months, and his physical response to the workouts conclusively prove to him that he is not back into shape. He is now heavier than he was at Toledo, but qualifies this admission with the explanation that he always drops considerable poundage during the summer.

Willard then began to explain just why Dempsey put him away at Toledo. "I have been hounded ever since that time on the score that I was not in condition. That is not true. I was in as fine shape as I have ever been and I shall not deviate one jot from my former method of training. Dempsey got me off to a bad start and I could not find myself after the first few fallouts. I was good enough—but of course that's an old story."

The recent statement of Dempsey that $150,000 is not enough to stage the bout brought no response from the challenger. He says that he is under contract with Rickard and met to talk Rickard that he wants to meet Dempsey. Anything that the champion or the promoters may have to say is of no interest to him. "I'm ready to fight and that's all," concluded Mr. Willard.

In the early days of the Roman Empire plums were not grown in Europe.

HARDING TO FISH IN FORMER PIRATE WATERS

Party on Two Days' Cruise to Isolated Island of the South Florida Keys.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31.—President-elect Harding and his vacation party sailed from Miami late yesterday afternoon for a two-day fishing cruise in the vicinity of Cocolobo, an isolated island of the South Florida Keys, 38 miles to the south.

The expedition will establish headquarters on Cocolobo, occupying a small clubhouse which stands in an expanse of waters once a favorite field of conquest for pirates. The building is comfortably equipped, but is many miles from any other habitation and has no means of communication with the outside world. The party will fish from the yacht Shadow V, on which they left Miami as the guest of her owner, Carl Fisher, head of a corporation which owns the string of resort hotels on Miami Beach. It is expected the Shadow V will return here Tuesday night and that Mr. Harding and his friends will go aboard the houseboat Victoria Wednesday morning for the return trip up the Indian River to St. Augustine.

Mr. Harding spent most of his Sunday here resting, but before lunch he motored to the Miami bathing beach and was in the surf for an hour as one of a crowd of several hundred bathers. He had lunch in the public dining room of a hotel, and had afternoon tea at the home of William Jennings Bryan. The visit to the Bryan residence was in return for Bryan's call of courtesy on Mr. Harding Saturday.

All of the members of the party who made the trip here on the Victoria went with Mr. Harding to the fishing grounds. Harry M. Daugherty of Columbus, and Senator Fall of New Mexico abandoning a previous decision to depart for the North.

Three years ago Miss Burrall took charge of the Girls' Bible Class of the Calvary Church. Under her leadership the class became popular and soon outgrew the church. It now has a membership of 200. Meetings are conducted every Sunday morning in the Rialto Theater, which is across the street from the church. The class contributes annually from $15,000 to $20,000 for the support of foreign missionaries.

Miss Burrall will remain here several days as the guest of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Gelstweit. She will then go to Columbia, Mo., where she will take charge of the Bible department of Stephens College.

The St. Louis Obstetric Dispensary, which recently was incorporated and quartered at the southwest corner of Grand avenue and Page boulevard, is endeavoring to raise money to enlarge the service which it has been giving to mothers for about 20 years.

The dispensary desires to add to its staff a nurse who would give all her time to the care of young babies of women who come to the dispensary for attention. It also wishes to engage a number of physicians to give part of their time to the care of needy mothers.

The ladies' auxiliary of the institution, which is helping to raise the money, recently elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Seth Cobb; first vice president, Mrs. Morris Glaser; second vice president, Mrs. Charles F. Bates; third vice president, Mrs. John C. Roberts; secretary, Mrs. John O'F. Delany; assistant secretary, Mrs. Susan Platt; treasurer, Mrs. Amadee Reburn; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Parker.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK STOCKS

Copper Stocks Advance, but Steels and Most Rails Show Losses—Wheat and Cotton Also Drop.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

The stock market was dull most of the day, but in the last hour it showed a decided recovery. The call money advancing from 7 to 8 per cent, trading became more active and a number of substantial declines were recorded. Up to this time the feature had been an advance in copper stocks, led by American Smelting, which advanced 3 1/2 points to 114 1/2. The general decline in the steel and equipment stocks was prominent and most rails showed fractional losses. At the close money was at 8 per cent and while the list showed some irregularity, losses were in distinct predominance.

An agreement at Paris having been obtained, the exchange market indicated that traders are now stopping to think just what it will mean. Judgments that the provisions agreed on are not entirely practicable and that trouble with the Germans is likely, evidently predominate at all events, all the European exchanges, except those on Scandinavia, were weaker. Sterling sold 13 1/2 cents at 14 1/2. French francs lost 24 points at 706 cents, and market was 20 points lower at 157 cents. The market was heavy with little business transacted. A further sharp drop of 14 pence in silver at London brought the price to another new low of 25 1/2 pence. Meanwhile the Far Eastern silver exchanges reflected the demoralization in those districts and Shanghai fell 5 1/2 cents to 65 1/2 cents, and the Hongkong dollar 4 1/2 to 50 cents. Last year the approaching of the Chinese New Year boosted the price of silver, but the contrast this year is marked. The holiday runs from Feb. 5 to 11 and reports are that the prospects of settlements are very poor.

Cotton weakened again, the March delivery showing at 14 1/2 cents, a loss of 1/2 point. Liquidation of recent bull holdings is reported and the manufacturing demand is poor. Wheat also broke, the March price going as high as $1.64, and then falling to $1.63. This represents a loss of 1/2 cent from Saturday. Corn made a new low price of 6 1/2 cents.

Note Circulation Decreases. "Continued decrease in note circulation and increase in reserves during last week overcame the adverse effect upon the Federal Reserve system's reserve ratio of an increase of $15,000,000 in net deposits. At 42 per cent the ratio is the highest in 14 months. The interest point is that, while the Western and Southern reserve banks are showing consistent improvement, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was weakened during the past two weeks. If the other regional banks, in fact, had not taken over an additional $10,000,000 of acceptances from the New York bank during the last week, the latter's ratio would have fallen 1/2 per cent, instead of 3/4. As a result of this operation the total of interbank accommodation increased by $25,000,000. The latest total being $25,000,000. All the borrowing banks except that at New York reduced their loans and there at Richmond and Kansas City are now entirely out of debt. With the exception noted, the only important borrowers are now the banks at Atlanta and Dallas which owe $17,000,000 and $21,000,000 respectively."

Wall Street News and Comment

SPECIAL DAILY

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Whatever stimulus was given the financial markets on Saturday by the adoption at Paris of the German reparations plan was lost this morning. The course of the exchanges suggested that more account be taken of a probable flat refusal by Germany to accept any such terms. In fact, this was the whole tenor of the news dispatches coming out of Berlin and there evidently was a disposition in banking circles to prepare for a hard-drawn-out series of negotiations which would have the effect of holding up indefinitely the settlement of this question upon which so much depends for international finance.

The upward tendency was sharply checked in both sterling and francs. The principal reaction, however, took place in German marks, which, as against their recent high around 1.90, sold under 1.80, thus losing fully half the entire gain since the middle of November.

This was a logical enough response to the onerous conditions imposed by the international council which immediately brought out the fact that if Germany were forced to agree to any such burden such chances as there may have been of a foreign loan would be annihilated.

In the stock market the most notable feature as it had been all week was the Indian reaction to the favorable trade news. Quotations fell, this time 50 cents a barrel, yet the oil shares did not get down but for the most part were inclined to ward higher prices. There was a sense of discouragement, however, and the outlook in the sugar trade and the market for raw sugar hung at its low record figure of 5 1/2 cents a pound.

Still there was absolutely no pressure against the sugar stocks and with the close of the day came a bit of covering was apparent in this group. The retreat of a short interest put out last week when prices started upon their fresh downward plunge. On the other hand, while the adverse features of the trade situation, as summarized, the favorable items in the morning's news were magnified as much as possible. There was ac-

When the doctor shakes his head

WHEN the old doctor takes little Katie's temperature and taps her on the chest and puts his ear against her shoulder and says: "Well, there's nothing really serious, but the child ought to be taken away to a different climate for at least two months." When Katie's mother takes Katie to Southern California and when Katie comes back twelve pounds heavier, with cheeks like rosy apples and an appetite like a little grizzly bear—Aren't you proud to be Katie's father and aren't you glad that Katie's father had the sense to open that Mississippi Valley Savings Account and the sturdy determination that builds it up by regular deposits every pay day?

SAYS SCHOOLS FAIL TO REACH THE MAJORITY

Principal H. H. Ryan of Junior High Asserts System Must Adapt Itself to the People.

"Whatever fine things the public school system does for those who survive in it, it utterly fails to reach the majority," said Prof. H. H. Ryan, principal of Ben Blewett Junior High School, in a recent address on the Junior high school before the Women's Club of Louisville, Ky. "In the year before the Junior high school was established in St. Louis, the number of pupils in the graduating class of all the St. Louis high schools was 11 per cent of the number in the sixth grade, at the threshold of the Junior High School. Evidently there is something which keeps many from enjoying the great advantage of high school education."

"The economic question is one factor. A number of students leave school at the age of 14, giving as the reason that they must assist their parents. I do not believe, however, that this plays so great a part as we have thought. There are so many who keep themselves in school by their own labor. Many who want an education get it and do not take the trouble. If the economic question were the only one, a school in a prosperous district would graduate practically all its students."

Many Miss Opportunities. "The colleges set the standard for the high schools. Every high school prides itself on sending graduates to college—and while doing that it forgets a lot of people. It is a great mistake to fail to provide for people who may have the mental power and the ability to make use of high school education."

"The average teacher would be horrified if told that the standard is too high, but I will venture as a fair estimate that nearly 20 per cent of all mathematical grades are failures. Taking that figure arbitrarily, say that 20 per cent of the first grades given a first year class are failures. Soon 20 per cent of the class fall out. The next year 20 per cent fall and fall out, and so on through the four years. It is a compound percentage."

"Prescribed courses have something to do with it. When you force a child to take something he doesn't want you take the first step toward putting him out of school."

"The world is getting to be extremely interesting. There are a great number of interesting things in St. Louis that are radically different in anything found in the textbooks of the St. Louis high schools. The study of geography, for instance, is now a sort of mental gymnastic. Some like it and some do not. Those who like it should have it, but obviously, their number will diminish. The answer is applied geography. All the dry principles in every subject should be connected with things actually going on."

"We cannot expect rapid changes in senior high schools as we have them. There is a body of knowledge, teaching methods and technique which is hard to displace. To a teacher of long experience her work becomes a matter of sentiment rather than logic."

"Changes will have to come in a new institution. I do not believe we could have had an institution like the Constitution of the United States without a virgin country for its development. The women's suffrage movement originated in the West, where it was comparatively free of tradition. In the educational world this virgin territory is the junior high school."

Work of Junior High Schools. The Junior high school starts with the assumption that it is possible to retain people through high school, and it will demonstrate. The Junior high schools now retain twice as many as the senior high schools. For this there are several reasons.

"Students in the seventh and eighth grades of the regular grade schools have to study 12 or 13 different subjects. In the Junior high these subjects are consolidated so that there are only six periods, one of which is devoted to gymnasium work and music, and one of which in the seventh grade is an 'advisory' period. One trouble with the senior schools is that the student is under seven different teachers, none of which is responsible for his conduct. The faculty advisor is directly responsible for his group of students, and is with them for at least one period a day in the seventh grade, and in the higher grades for a few minutes a day, which time, however, is to be increased."

"The Junior high school also takes citizenship very seriously. It spends much time not only with the theory, but also with the practice. Student self-government is elaborately worked out. Last November the students at Ben Blewett held an election which was a complete model of the national election and, although the registration and polling times were purposely made inconvenient, 1100 of the 1300 students voted."

Aptitude Considered. "The keynote to the Junior high school is its classification of children according to their aptitude for school work. They are divided into fast and slow groups, with, as might be expected, benefit to the fast groups, but with also surprisingly good effects on the students with slower mental reactions—who often become worth as much to the world as those with more facility in learning."

"It is frequently said that it is best to let people who can't keep up fall by the wayside, but it is important that boys and girls between the ages of about 14 to 18 be kept in school. In that period they insist on being convinced, and if their minds do not come from school then they will come from the street corner or whatever source is most available. If in keeping these students we do not give them what Harvard wants them to have, then it's up to Harvard. "I do not want to discredit the value of higher education. I have some of it myself and do not want to repudiate it, but parents who have children have the right to demand that they be educated."

"The responsibility falls largely on the educators. They decide the system, when a child shall come to school and what he shall study—and then if he fails they blame the boy. "Of course, there have been improvements in the educational system, but looking at it as a whole, it fails to reach a great body. Probably twice as many are graduated now as 10 years ago, because of improvements in the methods of teaching in the teachers themselves, and modern changes in the curriculum, but it's evident that something radical must be done. Everybody wants something different and the only way to meet the situation is to make the school broad enough to reach all of them. The school system must adapt itself to the people—it can't expect the people to adapt themselves to it."

To the Business Men of the Retail Tire Business

MANY concerns in this country will look back on 1920 as the year they discovered the American public. They found out that a nation is not mere mass and statistics—but people.

Right now, everywhere, business policies are being re-written—with the individual uppermost. The average American citizen is no longer a market. He is a person.

There was never any other way to look at him in the first place.

NO manufacturer ever had a better chance to test a policy than the makers of United States Tires had last year.

With every temptation to force production—to join the scramble to get the big share of tire demand—the United States Rubber Company stuck to its quality program.

Any suggestion of lowered standards for immediate benefit were met with the words: "No Compromise."

THOUSANDS of motorists—average American citizens—independent thinkers—acted in about the same way as this Company. They had temptations, too. Big discounts. Fictitious bargains. But they went to a legitimate dealer and bought United States Tires.

These men had keen noses for economy values—and nothing put them off the track. Somehow or other they fastened on to the simple down-to-earth policy behind United States Tires—a policy that had never been bill-boarded broadcast but that can be set down in fifty words:

"Take the average American you see on the streets of your home town.

Never mind the weight of his car or the size of its wheels. Put as much conscience into a 30x 3 1/2 tire as any other. Think of the man before anything.

Trust him to do square-toed, sensible thinking about tire economy."

WHAT this policy did is now a matter of record. This Company feels that it created the most substantial level-headed tire following in this country.

Because of this following, the makers of United States Tires are working with every element at normal. December, 1920, shipments to dealers for early 1921 business were greater even than in the same month of 1919.

MOREOVER, this Company starts 1921 with an unfilled order balance. Tire users get fresh tires, of current production.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Would Cancel All Debts.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The United States and several other countries are spending more money on armies and navies than ever.

And, this on top of the record-breaking war burdens and the admitted fact that the world would not stand for another war at this time in which case all such preparation will become obsolete and worthless long before needed.

I believe that such management of Governments is courting world disaster as a large scale.

The people do not want more war. What the people want is the production of the things that are needed for the welfare, happiness and contentment of the human race.

To prevent disaster and to promote prosperity and peace and to do away with highway robbery and stealing, an example of honesty must be set before the people by Government, and conditions must be created whereby production may resume and the workers be given employment in producing the things that all need.

The so-called gold standard, which makes private monopoly of money possible "and under which it is doubtful if any government on earth could be called upon, pay 20 cents on the dollar in gold to their outstanding paper currency" is responsible for the bad exchange rates which if not remedied will stop international trade, and throw each country upon its own resources.

We have goods and we have grains and cotton, that we much desire to sell, but it is beyond my comprehension how we sell it as long as we tell our purchasers, "that your money is only worth three cents on the dollar."

A French franc is a franc in France, notwithstanding that we call it only worth 7 cents here.

A German mark is a mark in Germany, worth 23.25 notwithstanding that it is only worth a little over a cent and a half here.

In my opinion there is a solution that would tend to adjust and stabilize this foreign exchange, and start the wheels of commerce moving in the sales of raw materials, grains, etc., and thereby put the masses back at work, at necessary work, creating useful things for their own comfort, thus bringing about normal prosperity and contentment.

This remedy would be the cancellation of the entire foreign debts or claims owed America from all foreign countries, but on condition that they likewise cancel all war claims against all other countries.

If other countries don't like this medicine, they should be forced to it in some economic manner.

This would wipe the slate, both of burdens and most of the bad feeling. It would allow immediate reduction of armies and armaments all around to an absolute minimum.

It would create new credits and confidence and put the masses of the real people quickly back to legitimate work. It would release countless herds of handiwork from government service, who instead of being any help to mankind, are a burden.

If nothing comes from this ghastly catastrophe recently enacted except immense burdens to the masses, from armies and armaments maintained to collect tribute to be squandered by military powers, then the masses are indeed in a bad way.

WORRIED READER.
 That Illinois Shark.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

There is as much reason to believe in the myths concerning the ancient gods as there is to believe that the State of Illinois was an ocean bed 23,000,000 years ago, as is claimed by some scientists after the discovery of a shark's jawbone 175 feet below the surface of the ground in that State.

Could it not be possible that a shark could have followed an underground stream from the Mississippi River and going over a waterfall expire at the bottom of it? It would not be necessary for it to be a salt water fish either.

This could have happened many years less than 23,000,000 and still allow time for the stream to become extinct.

It is the advancement of such theories as this that makes so many atheists and agnostics in the world.

There are people who will stand upon this planet and behold the wonders of the universe and say that they have no proof that God exists and yet will readily believe that if a shark's jawbone is found under the ground it is abundant proof that an ocean existed there millions of years ago.

There is too much confidence and faith put in these so-called enlightening discoveries and not enough in the one true source of light and knowledge—the Bible.

J. PETER JOHNSON.

POLITICS, NOT STATESMANSHIP.

The allied Premier, in their reparations scheme, have given Germany a strong point of objection upon which to stand. They have violated the treaty.

Article 232 of the treaty requires the allies to formulate, after three months, a practical reparations plan, with payments limited to 20 years. Nineteen months have passed since the treaty was made and the allies have put out an impractical, brutal reparations scheme, with payments covering 42 years.

The scheme indicates a lack of good faith, statesmanship and sound judgment on the part of the Premier. It is vitiated with politics, revenge and ruthless greed.

There is little prospect that Germany can pay $56,000,000,000 in 42 years. But when to the $56,000,000,000 is added a 12 1/2 per cent ad valorem tax on German exports, the scheme assumes monstrous proportions. In short, it proposes not only to squeeze all the profits that Germany can make in 42 years, but to throttle her foreign trade, which is the only way in which Germany can gain profits. "You do take my very life when you do take the means by which I live." The words of ruined Shylock are applicable to the German people. If, combined with a heavy tax on German trade, by which alone they can live and prosper in competition with other peoples, there is a heavy indemnity of goods or money, what prospect is there except practically slavery, leading to ruin?

It is not to save the German nation from just penalties for wrongdoing that we criticize the ruthless scheme of the allies. It is to save the German people from ruin and chaos and to save the world from the suffering which must inevitably follow German ruin and chaos. We plead not for soft leniency, but for enlightened selfishness at least.

The allies ought to decide whether they want to collect a reasonable indemnity and save the peace, order and economic structure of Europe, or whether they want the utter crushing of Germany, with all the evil consequences that may flow therefrom.

The best expert opinion agrees that Germany might pay from 10 to 15 billions, with interest, within 30 years, but this ability to pay depends upon the rapid rehabilitation of German industry and trade, which has now been too long delayed. But with a handicap of an export tax and double that amount with interest, beyond all reason and expectancy. The first step towards the enforcement of the terms is to forbid Germany to borrow funds. Since credit is necessary to the restoration of German industry and commerce, the beginning of rehabilitation work is still longer delayed.

If the Senate had ratified the Versailles treaty, the United States might have served as a beneficent influence in modifying the ruthlessness of France and interest of England. We are removed from the fears, motives and enmities of Europe and can better distinguish wisdom from folly in dealing with peace settlements. But the Wilson plan was set aside with the support of German sentiment and the Germans must take the consequences. We can only hope that further consideration will have a salutary effect upon the counsels of the Premier.

Mr. Harding's houseboat got stuck in the mud, thereby conspicuously proving that what the Atlantic Ocean needs is good roads.

A GOOD OMEN FOR PEACE.

The world notes with profound satisfaction that the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague has resumed its peace-time functions in recent decisions and awards made in cases wherein nationals of Great Britain, France and Spain suffered losses and deprivation of property in Portugal in 1910 in consequence of the revolution overthrowing the monarchy and establishing the republic in that year.

Diplomatic negotiations between the three states and Portugal failed to effect what was considered a fair settlement of the claims and in 1913 special agreements were concluded for their submission to The Hague court. It was provided that three judges should be selected from The Hague panel, none of whom should be a national of any of the parties in interest. Those chosen were Savornin Lohman of Holland, Mr. Lardy of Switzerland and Elihu Root of the United States. Mr. Root was appointed president of the tribunal. Preparations for the trial of the cases were interrupted by the outbreak of the great war and it was not until last year that they could be proceeded with.

The cases are not of high importance in themselves nor are the decisions of great value as contributing to the clarification of any legal principles, but they are noteworthy as the first to be adjudicated by The Hague court since the beginning of the great war, and in that the court sat for the first time in the magnificent Palace of Peace made possible through the liberality of Andrew Carnegie. They constitute a fresh reminder to the nations of the world that this pacific and orderly agency is again open to them for the purpose of promoting amicable settlements of their differences.

Before very long there will be established as a complement to The Hague Court of Arbitration the International Court of Justice, approved by the League of Nations. The former, while losing some of its present jurisdiction to the latter, will nevertheless occupy a valuable field in view of the scores of treaties now binding states to submit large classes of their disputes to it. BETTER MILK INSPECTORS.

The Health Department has asked for more inspectors to correct the faults of the city's milk control. It wants 18, instead of two inspectors.

Federal dairy authorities have in the past recommended more milk inspectors in St. Louis. Dr. Rawl, head of the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture, may be expected to recommend more inspectors upon his arrival this week.

The Aldermen, now apparently very earnestly seeking to purify St. Louis milk, may be expected to provide more inspectors.

The more inspectors must also be better inspectors. The city's present inspectors testified to the Aldermen that the city's dairies were clean and sanitary. The Aldermen went to see for themselves and found unclean and insanitary dairies. The job of dairy inspector now is a political prize to be tossed to the faithful.

A milk inspector must be more than a police officer armed with a club, ready to crack down. He should be an instructor, armed with knowledge, cracking down only when the pupil is stubborn.

The ordinance must specify high qualifications for milk inspectors so clearly that the Efficiency Board cannot mistake them. It might specify that milk inspectors, particularly those who are to mingle with Illinois farmers, must be graduates of some agricultural or dairy school. The salary proposed, $150 a month and $7.50 a day for expenses, should be as attractive to young agricultural school graduates as are the posts as internes in hospitals to young medical school graduates.

Only with better inspectors will dirt and threat of disease vanish from the milk bottle.

THE SCHWAB VERDICT.

The charge that Charles M. Schwab received money for his personal expenses from the Government while acting as director of the Emergency Fleet Corporation has been dismissed as untrue. The committee has not only exonerated Mr. Schwab but has made amends by proper expressions of regret.

Deeply grieved at the accusation, Mr. Schwab is as deeply grateful for the consideration shown him by the committee. In that gratitude the public can share. And if the public cannot share Mr. Schwab's grief it can be righteously indignant at the injustice that has been done him. There was absolutely no foundation in fact for the charge. The accusing witnesses admitted they had no proof. Abadie's testimony, when inquired into, was nothing but an accountant's inference from a system of a corporation's bookkeeping with which he was not familiar. Morse knew nothing except what some subordinate had told him. The evidence of this ugly, scandalous assault upon a man's character, therefore, rested on nothing but ignorance and hearsay.

There was at issue in this trial more than the integrity of an individual. An aspect of our patriotism in the great national crisis of a war was under fire. If this charge had not been utterly disproved, as it has been, could any of the dollar-a-year men escape suspicion?

Mr. Schwab is vindicated, but the verdict is more than a personal triumph. It is a triumph for patriotism. That is its essential importance. But what of the men who made the accusation? Public opinion blasts them with its censure, but in addition to such rebuke, the law might well punish such infamous and unsupported assaults upon men in public life or service.

A TRUE-BLUE SUNDAY.

Many of the so-called Blue Sundayites, who fancy themselves stern votaries of denial, are really mere dilettantes. The Sunday they fondly imagine to be blue would wear, as a matter of fact, but the slightest tint of turquoise. It has remained for Brother Voliva of Zion City to give us the plans and specifications of a sure-enough indigo Sabbath.

The Volvian Sunday regimen would exclude amusements of every character. All literature would be banned except the Bible. Not a wheel would turn save in transit to worship and back home. The entire day, from mornmoredawn to dewy eve would be spent in church.

A Sunday that would seem good to the worldly, or at least the semiworldly, eyes of Brother Dinwiddie would look like a carnival in full blast to Brother Voliva. In other words, Dinwiddie tentatively does a hairshirt of silk mixture, while Voliva plunges into a union suit of the real thing. But let us not misunderstand Brother Voliva. He does not attempt to tell us we shall enjoy his kind of Sunday. He frankly admits it will be no gala day. But he argues it is better to be unhappy one day a week on earth than to sizzle in hell through eternity. The Lord that Voliva has fashioned in his mind is a hard trader who will repay earthly misery with celestial gayety and will everlastingly roast terrestrial meritment.

It is astonishing how scandalously the Volivas of this world libel their Lord.

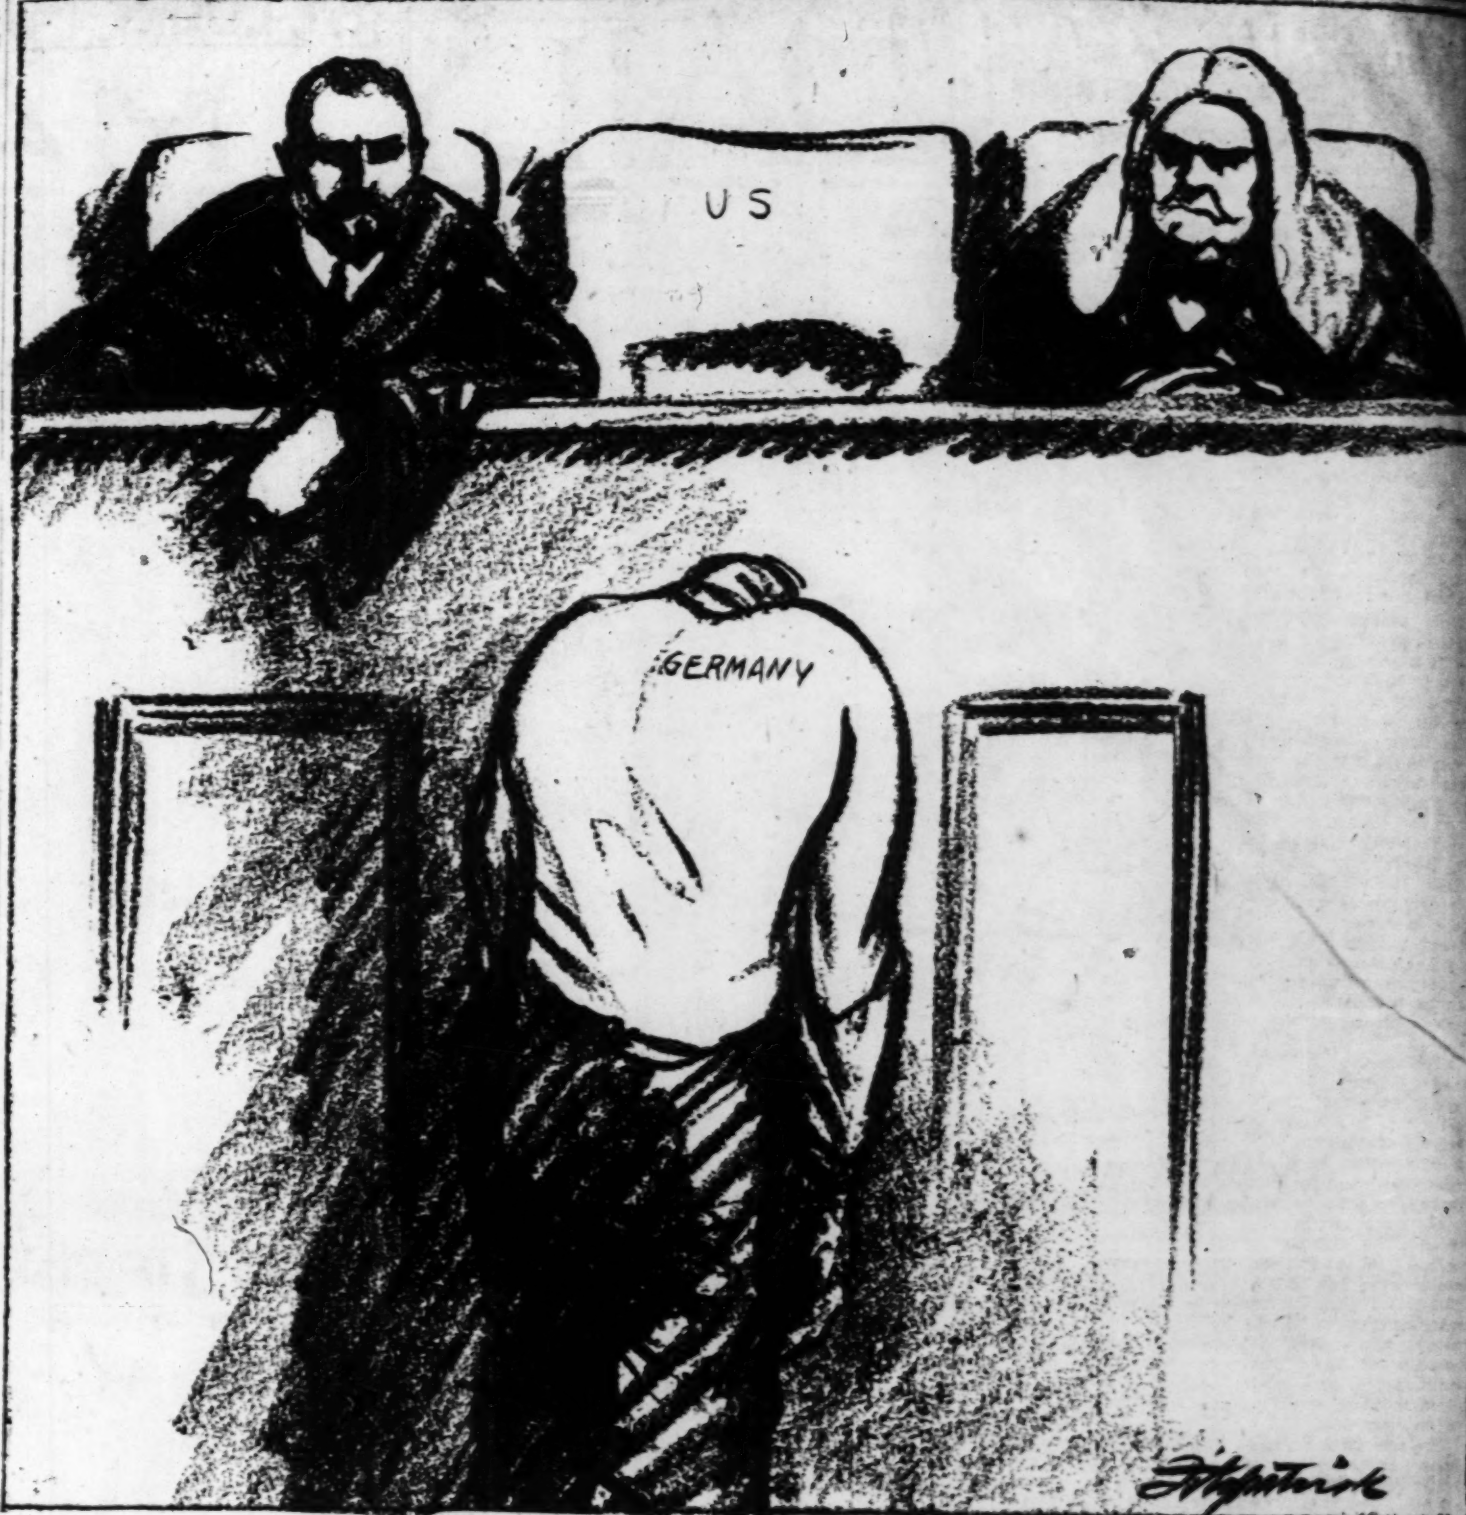

The Marion (O.) official who said he was robbed by highwaymen, and now admits that he was his own burglar, may have been trying to keep the old town on the first page.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH
 by Clark McAdams

JUST A MINUTE IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The humor of Democrats in Washington is more hopeful than it is among us. Some of the Republicans themselves are saying they would not give 2 cents for their chances of popular approval in the congressional elections two years hence, and while the Democrats are preparing to move out there is an increasing feeling among them that it is not really good-by. It was easier to lay all our present ills at the door of Democratic government than it is to cure them with legislation, and the Republicans know that very well. The emergency tariff bill, which has caused such a laugh upon both sides, is an illustration of the futility of legislating prosperity. Time alone can heal our afflictions, as time only can end the resentments arising out of the war. The Republicans are very good politicians. They know quite well what is going to happen, and their happiness is at this time nothing like that of the Democrats who the latter took the Government over in 1913 convinced that the Republicans were to remain permanently split.

At that, the Democrats are packing everything. It is withal a sad spectacle. The last bits of shattered idealism are being carefully done up in excelsior, and all the bric-a-brac of intellectual government is being tenderly wrapped in cotton batting. Formerly the succeeding administrations ruthlessly booted one another out of town. The defeated incumbent merely surrounded himself with his repudiated policies upon the fateful fourth day of March and fell across the Potomac, his retreat covered by violence no less unforgotten than that of his successor. Such will not be the case upon the present occasion, since matter cannot hurt itself upon mind. What Mr. Wilson brought to Washington will quietly depart, as the wind goeth. The Republicans will march with a band at their head, there will be three cheers by the populace—which cannot have any politics since it must prey upon both sides—and what historians call an epoch will have come and gone without most of us having guessed it.

We somehow failed to see to the occasion, which has usually been true when a prophet has arisen. That phenomenon was observed as long ago as when it was said that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. That this is as true now as ever is indicated by reports from the trip which our one-time fellow townsman, Bainbridge Colby, now Secretary of State, has just made to some of the South American capitals. Mr. Colby and his party found the South Americans eager to accord Mr. Wilson the honor we have denied him. They think he has done a great thing in the world, which he has. We have as a consequence of his leadership a new international morality, and not even our own forefathers, while founding the republic, projected so dynamic an idea as Mr. Wilson did in declaring the principle of self-determination. That new thing in the world lies as a cloud no bigger than a man's hand on the sky of empire.

One may imagine that after satisfying his grudge in the way he did last November Col. George Harvey would be about the most tranquil spirit in public life, but that is unhappily not the case. The Colonel has made a practice ever since the election of counting in black type somewhere in each issue of his weekly the days left to the Wilson administration; but just as he was about to enjoy the climax of this sardonic jest he discovered that the German-American Alliance is coming back. That has thrown the Colonel into a confusion fit, though one cannot easily see why. Probably the Colonel knows more than we do about Republican obligations to the German vote. That is only a guess. It may be wrong, but Marce Gange is carrying on something dreadful. One would suppose the German-Americans were to have some sort of union.

REASONS FOR ALIEN GUN LAW IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Because of the open manner in which our laws were violated by aliens, no matter what might be their nation's name, and the determined manner in which these people attempted to maintain their position through the use of violence, we became impressed with the idea that the majority of aliens in Pennsylvania labored under the impression that the word "Liberty" as written in our Constitution, meant license to do as one pleased. The majority of these people seemed to be impressed with the thought that it was their right in this country to take especially wild creatures when they pleased, in such manner as they found most convenient, and in numbers that sufficient them, best, entirely regardless of the harm that might come to their fellow-men because of such action. We had in this State 14 men shot at, seven shot and four killed in one year, all by aliens, because we dared to interfere with them in their effort to kill our song and insectivorous birds and our game.

Because of these occurrences we took such action as in our minds appeared necessary to secure the very best results, and through the act of May 8, 1909, denied to aliens the right to own or be possessed of the power to wrong our State through the killing of our birds and our game, or our people through the shooting of our officers, and the aliens themselves, because of their disposition to kill or seriously injure one another on the slightest provocation, and are satisfied this act has brought more peace, not only to our birds and game and our own people, but in addition to the aliens themselves, than has been guaranteed by any single law on the statute books of this Commonwealth. The benefits resulting from the passage of the first act, that denied to aliens the right to own or be possessed of a shotgun or rifle, were so evident that, without consultation with the Game Commission, the amendments relating to the ownership or possession of revolvers and pistols and dogs were added. In the beginnings it was contended by those opposed to this proposition that this bill as drafted was unconstitutional, because it denied to unnaturalized residents of the State certain privileges accorded as a right to citizens. Later on, this same position was assumed before the lower courts of the State, before our Superior and our Supreme Court, and finally before the Supreme Court of the United States, all of which courts decided that said position was not well taken, and in addition that the claim to hunt or shoot or be possessed of a shotgun or rifle by an unnaturalized foreign-born resident was a privilege that might be granted or denied by our Legislature, and was not an inherent right.—Joseph Kalbfus, Secretary Game Commission of Pennsylvania.

Sir: If the claim of Herr Editor Vierick that the Germans are entitled to Cabinet representation because of 8,000,000 votes delivered in the recent election may be accepted as based on fact, then just a minute and the others of that minority who felt no resentment to the party in power because of the winning of the war may be thankful that government as a whole is yet stronger than any majority.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

THE PROBLEM OF RUSSIA.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.
PRESIDENT WILSON'S reply to the invitation of the League of Nations to mediate in the matter of the Armenian-Turkish trouble emphasizes the hopelessness of any attempt to stabilize conditions in the countries immediately surrounding Russia without the united and definite action of the associated and allied Powers, and it voices a conviction that has long been confirmed in the minds of all capable of a detached and disinterested view of the tragedy being enacted in Eastern Europe and in the Near East, namely, that external pressure upon the Bolsheviks has been and will be an utter failure. As the President's note points out, Armenia is only one detail of a vastly greater problem. The safe hope of a solution of that problem is the demobilization of the contending forces within and without Russia. That demobilization cannot take place while the existing distrust prevails, and it can only be removed by such action by the Powers as shall make the smaller nations on the Russian borders understand that they can look for no support in any aggression they may be tempted to make against Russia. Such a guarantee ought to operate to bring about demobilization in Russia itself; but if it should not, then the responsibility for continued hostilities would be finally and definitely fixed. It would be a notice of Russia that it has peace if it wants it. If by its reply the Bolsheviks declare for war, then, at least, the rest of the world will know what has been done. Only by some such method can the questions of Russian willingness to live in peace with its neighbors and to relinquish its purpose to carry revolution to the ends of the world be determined. And only thus can the world gain some confidence in the intention of the Russian Government itself to keep faith with those who seek to deal with it. Hitherto that confidence has been wholly lacking, and with good reason.

BOSS RULE IN DEMOCRACY.

MAX NORDAU in the Observer.
THE political boss, the labor leader, the Premier of today has the power that the King would had in former days. If it weren't for that it weren't for the machination of a few individuals, we would not have had that great product of our "civilization," the Great War, with its millions of victims, poor people! Sennacherib couldn't have arranged such a holocaust so arbitrarily. America and England pride themselves on being democracies. Well, I consider that perhaps America is the freest country in the world. But there, too, we have the political boss in power. Consider the choosing of a candidate for President of the United States at the recent election. How seldom did the people of the United States must have been to find one morning that it had been their overwhelming desire that Senator Harding should be their candidate as President on the Republican ticket; that Governor Cox should be the people's Democratic nominee; that the labor leader and those who obey the labor master, the Squire, the owning class. Then in the United States this group of individuals get into power, give about 200 of the best men places in influence, and for four years the people of America have the analogue of the Kaiser or the Czar.
